Civil War Spectre Hovering Over Berlin; Marks Are 8,000,000 for Dollar

By FRITZ EBERT, JR.
Son of German President
(Written Expressly for International News Service)
(Copyright, 1923, by International News Service)

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—In spite of the nation-wide, conscienceless agitation of the Reds, the bulk of the German workers steadfastly refuse to be lured into the ranks of the Communists, who wish to hoist the Soviet Star over our country.

Yet, what agitation, promises and propaganda have so far failed to do, hunger may, in the end, accomplish. The danger of the much-dread "Red wave" is only just beginning to become acute.

Money Market Collapses

The collapse of the mark in New York was an unexpected blow for the government and public. The Reichsbank intervened in the market strongly and held the dollar rate to 5,500,000 marks, but the rate reached 8,000,000 to the dollar after the exchange closed. President Havenstein of the Reichsbank resigned today.

Berlin is bare of the most necessary foodstuffs. There are no fats, no potatoes, no meat. Just as in the worst days of the war, the housewives of all classes of the population are standing, from early morning on, in long lines in front of food stores, hoping that some time in the course of the day there will be a pound of potatoes, just a bit of fat, a piece of meat, or only a sausage. Most of them wait in vain. Here is one of the many pictures that have come to be the order of the day in the streets of Berlin:

TAX RATE FAILS TO CREATE STIR

Councilman Hall Disagrees With City Controller in Council Session

The city council last night deferred the fixing of Glendale's tax rate.

The local rate for the present fiscal year, however, will be either 41 cents or more below last year's rate—this much was definitely indicated.

Last year's rate was $1.54 and $1.55 for city purposes. Therefore, this year's rate will be somewhat near $1.14.

A difference of 8 cents in the proposed rate caused a deadlock between City Controller H. C. Saulsberry and Councilman Asa Hall. Mr. Saulsberry stated he had investigated the subject and was of the opinion that an allowance of 7 per cent should be made for delinquencies. He added that this percentage was based upon last year's tax collection. Mr. Hall disagreed.

The combination of rates to raise funds for the amortization of bonds in different assessment districts was another point for argument.

Councilman W. A. Horn suggested that Councilman Hall and City Controller Saulsberry should go into the controversy together to ascertain if they could not reach some mutual agreement. The subject was laid upon the table until Thursday's session. City Attorney Ray L. Morrow asserted that the tax rate does not have to be fixed until August 27.

Reserve Fund Necessary

The city treasury's reserve fund of $80,000, which was accumulated during the last fiscal year, was commented upon favorably by Mr. Saulsberry. He called attention to the fact that this reserve fund is necessary to keep the transactions of the administration upon a cash basis between the end of the fiscal year and the arrival of the revenue from taxation.

Aged Man Slain After He Killed Own Daughter

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Aug. 22.—Henry Rector shot his father-in-law, John Garrett, 74, to death in Sodus township today after the aged man had murdered his daughter, Rector's wife, 44 years old. Rector told the authorities his father-in-law seemed to have gone suddenly insane, for, after shooting Mrs. Rector with a shotgun, he chased him with a pitchfork.

Rector's face was lacerated by the pitchfork. He also suffered a charge of buckshot in the legs. Then he ran to a closet, procured a weapon of his own and shot Garrett.

FRENCH WILL STAND PAT ON DEBTS

Reply to British Note Gives Minimum Demands to Be Made on Germany

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service

PARIS, Aug. 22.—France is standing pat on her reparations demands, it was revealed today when the foreign office officially published the note sent to London last night in reply to the British reparations communication of August 12. It is a fifty-page document, laying all France's cards upon the table, and answering the British document point by point.

For the first time, France officially sets forth 26,000,000,000 gold marks as her minimum demand from Germany, plus sufficient credits from Class C reparations bonds to pay any war debts claimed by France's allies.

The note pointed out that this is a concession on France's part, as her share of "C" bonds might exceed the demands made upon her by her allies for war debts.

Reiterates Two Points

The note reiterated that France will not enter into negotiations with Germany until passive resistance ceases in the Ruhr, and will not accept an international commission of experts to fix Germany's capacity for payment. Willingness was expressed, however, to discuss debatable questions with Great Britain and the allies.

The Foreign office considers that the door has been left open for an agreement with Great Britain and that the Anglo-French entente remains in force. Officials regard the conciliatory tone of the document, especially the decision to participate in an allied conference, as favorable. The note suggests an immediate settlement of that part of the Ger-

Repairs Made on Two Wrecked Submarines

HONOLULU, Aug. 22.—Repairs were today under way on the submarines R-11 and R18, both of which collided in the Pearl Harbor channel and were beached to prevent possible sinking with the full tide. This morning they were floated and towed to the naval station. Steering gear trouble on the R-11, apparently, was the cause of the trouble. No one was injured.

Piggly Wiggly Company Sues Former President

MEMPHIS, Aug. 22.—The Piggly Wiggly corporation, in a bill filed today in the United States district court, seeks an injunction to restrain Clarence Saunders, formerly its president, from disposing of any of the proceeds of the recent sale of Class A stock in the corporation. It charges that two audits have failed to reveal what part, if any, of the stock purchased belong to the company and what to Saunders.

Man and Woman Drown In Swimming Lesson

SEATTLE, Aug. 22.—Fred Johnson, a contractor, recently from Greensboro, S. C., and his housekeeper, Mrs. Gertrude H. Kenzie, recently of Long Beach, California, were drowned in Green Lake late yesterday while Johnson was teaching the woman to swim. Mrs. Kenzie is said to leave a son and daughter in Long Beach.

U. S. Plans to Meet Fuel Crisis as Strike Parley Deadlocks

President Coolidge Is Determined There Shall Be No Suffering; Bituminous Coal Will Take Place Of Anthracite

By KENNETH W. CLARK
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—While the United States coal commission was drafting a reply today to let the public know who is responsible for the failure of the anthracite operators and miners to enter into a new wage agreement, official assurances came from the White House that the country was going to be supplied with all the fuel that is needed after September 1, whether or not there was a strike in the hard coal fields.

President Coolidge is determined that there will be no suffering from lack of fuel. The government today put the finishing touches on its plans to flood the anthracite consuming regions with bituminous coal, coke and other substitutes.

It was declared at the White House this morning that the president was still hopeful that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and S. D. Warringer, spokesman for the operators, would compose their differences.

Although it was suggested in some quarters that the president might be able to pour oil on the troubled waters by summoning Lewis and Warringer to the capital for a personal conference at the White House, John Hays Hammond, chairman of the coal commission thought the federal government should limit its activities until August 31 to fixing responsibility for the collapse of the conference at Atlantic City.

No action will be taken by the president, however, until he has conferred with Mr. Hammond. The publication of this report will bring public opinion to bear on the offending group in the anthracite war to such a degree that a settlement will be reached without direct governmental intervention, it is believed.

Near Emergency

"There is nothing more for us to do," Chairman Hammond declared today. "It is up to them now. If they don't do something in the next day or two the next thing will be to publish our report to the president, fixing the responsibility. The commission has no intention of calling the joint commission to Washington for a further conference. The situation has not yet reached the emergency stage, but it is emerging."

The commission will not limit

CONVICT PARKING LAW VIOLATOR

Jury Finds John Veilik Is Guilty of Leaving His Car in Red Zone

A verdict of guilty of violating the municipal parking ordinance was brought in by a jury this morning in Police Judge F. H. Lowe's court. The defendant was John Veilik of Los Angeles, who admitted that his automobile had been tagged by Captain W. A. Loving, acting chief of police, while parked in front of a local theatre. He represented himself in the court action. His contention was that he had supposed that the theatre was unoccupied at that time in the morning.

Assistant City Attorney Leslie R. Tarr, who prosecuted the case, called attention to the fact that Ordinance No. 635 is not dependent upon the time of day for its effectiveness. He believes this case will serve as a warning to others.

Jurors, who deliberated about half an hour over the evidence, were as follows. Charles W. Schwitters, Henry C. Seaman, Jr., William R. Mehard, George R. Seeley, Harry E. White, Carl H. Kirkman, Clark C. Johnson, Harry W. Timothy, Frank B. Reichenbach, Earl E. Dennison, James R. Irwin and John S. McLean.

Los Feliz Assessment Cases Thrown Out of Court, Defendants' Version

A legal victory for property owners in the Los Feliz district, whose street assessments are delinquent, was obtained yesterday, according to L. W. Chobe of 2301 Sierra avenue, chairman of the Los Feliz Protective association.

Attorney P. H. Wende of 102-A East Broadway, who represents local protestants in this action, stated this morning that his demurrer in the Richardson-Greene case was sustained yesterday by Judge McDaniel in Department 1 of the Superior court. This appears contrary to a report, also published today, given out by opposing counsel.

The effect of this action, according to Attorney Wende, is to throw this case out of court. He called attention that Judge Crail ordered a stay of the other eighty cases, involving over 100 local citizens, until the settlement of this test case. He therefore believes that the other cases will be thrown out of court also.

GOES DOWN WITH SHIP

SEATTLE, Aug. 22.—Roy Hoffman of Seattle was drowned and the fish tender Decision sunk Tuesday, when it was rammed in a dense fog off Port Townsend by the Canadian Pacific steamship Princess Charlotte. Captain Charles Jansen and Carl Sorenson were rescued from the rammed tender.

1922 TOTAL OF PERMITS OUTDONE

$6,346,624 Already Written On Books Here This Year, Is Report

By ART SHERBORNE
Of The Evening News Staff

Glendale's building record for the year to date has surpassed last year's entire total by more than $40,000. August 1923 is a much bigger building month than the same period last year.

The issuance of $88,900 worth of permits yesterday made the total for the first three weeks of this month $612,653 or three-fifths of a million dollars.

The total for the year to date this morning was $6,346,624. This is $40,653 in excess of the total of $6,305,971 for 1922. Think of it, folks!

The largest permit issued yesterday was to Realtor L. H. Wilson of 1034 South San Fernando road for the construction at 737 South San Fernando road of a store and building to cost $33,000. H. C. Vandewater, superintendent, complains of "writer's cramp" because of the rush of building busi-

HALF MILE FALL KILLS TWO FLYERS

Third Airman Injured When Planes Collide in Fog At Maneuvers

PENSACOLA, Fla., Aug. 22.—Two marine officers were instantly killed and another probably fatally injured here today when two planes in which they were riding, collided at an altitude of approximately 3,200 feet, and plunged to the ground. The machines were at combat maneuvers when the crash came.

The dead: Cornelius McFadden, pilot of the United States marine corps, whose home is in Philadelphia, and Captain G. F. Hill of Leominster, Mass. Lieut. Mentona A. Richell, also of the marine corps, was injured.

Both bodies of the dead men were horribly mutilated and crushel after the more than half mile plunge.

Seven Lives Lost

Five planes were maneuvring and it is thought that "thick" weather was responsible for the accident. Heavy clouds were encountered, according to officers of the other planes, and it is thought the flyers became confused.

Today's accident made the second crash near here in four days, claiming a total of seven lives. A commercial ship plunged into Santa Rosa sound near here Sunday morning, killing four men and one woman.

Police Shock Troops After L. A. Bandits

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Believing the four men who yesterday held up and robbed the Belvedere State bank of $20,000 amid a hail of bullets are the same quartet who last night engaged in a downtown shooting affray with a police officer, killing Frank Sullivan, a newsboy, Chief of Police August Vollmer today ordered his "shock troops" consisting of his best officers into a gigantic man hunt.

Japanese Steamer Hit In Fog Off S. F. Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—A dense fog off Point Reyes was responsible for the collision today between the Japanese steamer Kongosan Maru with an unidentified lumber-laden steamer, according to radio messages to the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce. Both vessels were damaged, the extent of which is not known, and the Kongosan Maru is limping into this port.

No word has been received from the lumber steamer.

VINDICATE CHICK EVANS

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Charles (Chick) Evans, champion golfer, was vindicated today when the court refused to issue a warrant accusing him of passing a worthless check for $7500.

CHAMBER O.K. PUT ON CITY PLANNING

Directors to Recommend That Commission Be Named by Council

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff

The necessity for the appointment of a city planning commission was stressed at the weekly meeting of the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce last night, when Attorney James McBryde appeared before the board and advised the members regarding the provisions of the law that is now on the statute books of the state, pointing out the duties that a city planning commission is permitted and expected to perform in helping to lay out a city along lines that will permit it to develop into a symmetrical and beautiful whole and one where the public buildings, parks, streets and sub-divisions will be planned, according to a definite system.

The law provides that any city may, by ordinance, appoint a city planning commission, to consist of five members, one of whom

OMAHA IDLE AS MUD RILES WATER

Machinery Ruined, Epidemic Feared; Bootleggers Supplying Drink

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 22.—Ten thousand Omahans were laid off today when many industries, including packing plants, laundries, bakeries, barber shops and restaurants were forced to suspend business because of the muddy condition of city water.

City water today was worse than yesterday, it fairly dropping from faucets in chunks of mud.

The entire city today began to feel the effects of being without water. Sickness was reported on the increase. It was estimated $200,000 in wages had been lost, but this was small compared to the thousands of dollars lost by big business and when machinery and boilers were totally destroyed by the oozy muddy water.

With trucks loaded with barrels, Omaha's "bootleggers caravan" descended on the big spring at Elmwood Park at 4 a. m. today. Even at that hour a large crowd had gathered to get water.

Police Called Out

The bootleggers forced the throng away from the spring. A riot followed. Police were called but the "caravan" had disappeared.

Arrangements were being made to have water hauled from Council Bluffs to Omaha and distributed to down town hotels. City Commissioner John Hopkins was to ask city council today for permission to lay 5,000 feet of hose from the waterworks in Council Bluffs, across the Missouri river bridge and into Omaha.

Men and boys with push carts, wagons and flivvers laden with bottles, tins and barrels were coining money today, going about the residence districts crying "Spring water, 5 cents a quart."

Bandits Rob, Kidnap Oil Station Employe

POMONA, Aug. 22.—Three unmasked bandits early today held up and robbed and then kidnaped L. T. Hampe, Shell Oil company filling station attendant here. Some time after midnight, while Hampe was painting a fence about the service station, three men appeared and said they wished to buy some oil. As Hampe turned to fill their order, he found himself staring into a revolver. After looting the cash register, the bandits started toward Los Angeles. Finally after reaching an outlying town, the bandits released Hampe and gave him 50 cents.

ANTHRAX KILLS BOY

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 22.—Thomas Ballard, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ballard of Tacoma, Wash., died early today from anthrax infection which he contracted en route here on an automobile tour with his parents. The case was the first brought to the attention of health outhorities.

Flight Bulletins

HAZELHURST FIELD, MINEOLA, N. Y., Aug. 22.—The plane which left the West Coast yesterday in the flight inaugurating 28-hour mail service from coast to coast arrived here at 4:15 p. m. Eastern Standard time, only 59 minutes behind schedule.

OVER GREEN RIVER

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—The first westbound mail airplane, which left Rock Springs, Wyo., at 11:16 a. m. mountain time, passed over Green River, Wyo., at 11:27 mountain time, according to advices to the Southern Pacific here today The plane is in charge of Pilot Robert Ellis.

CLEVELAND REPORTS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—Pilot Reuben Wagner of the Chicago-Cleveland lap of the 28-hour trans-continental air mail service experiment arrived here at 12:59 p. m. eastern standard time today. The plane left for New York three minutes later, in charge of Pilot Eugene Johnson.

TRAIN-AUTO CRASH LIKE MIRACLE

Two Men Thrown Clear as Car Is Demolished by Santa Fe Engine

The lives of A. F. Muske and Leo Vesquez were spared by a freak of luck, when the car in which they were returning to Glendale from Los Angeles was struck at the Santa Fe crossing on the San Fernando road, at 10:30 o'clock last night, and demolished.

Mr. Muske, who lives, with his wife and three children, at 1128 East Chestnut street, was still badly shaken up when he reported the accident this morning, suffering from bruises and abrasions, but with no major external injuries, and no internal injuries so far as can yet be determined.

They were returning from a trial to which Mr. Muske had taken Mr. Vasquez as a witness, when suddenly, without previous warning, they heard a train whistle. In jamming on the brakes, they stalled right on the Santa Fe tracks, which, according to Mr. Muske, are not guarded at night.

Details of Wreck

Seeing no train in sight, he tried to start the car—when suddenly a blinding light popped out of a dark track alley, and the train was upon them.

Vesquez leaped first, one instant before the crash. His companion was about to follow, when, with a grinding, splintering impact, the locomotive struck the car, hurling it and its occupant many feet.

In mid-air, according to Vesquez, the flying automobile struck him, just as he had leaped, while Mr. Muske landed, unconscious, close to the deadly rails.

A moment later he came to, and lay there, not daring to move, as car after heavy car thundered by, so close he could almost have touched them.

Find Machine Wreck

Finally he dragged himself away, to discover Vesquez, limping about, dazed. When they approached the remains of the wrecked machine, they found it still headed for Glendale, but battered beyond repair.

A. F. Muske is a cement contractor. His three children, who so nearly lost their father last night, are all talented. Two of them, Gertrude and Gladys, are dancing pupils of Pearl Keller, as well as music pupils of Mrs. C. L. Marlenee. The other, Albert, is at present taking music lessons, too.

Battle Raging Between Spaniards and Moors

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Spanish troops of the Moroccan front today began a concerted attack to relieve the hard-pressed garrison at Tifaurin, said a Central News dispatch from Madrid. Artillery and many airplanes supported the infantry. Five thousand Spanish reinforcements are being sent to Morocco.

MADRID, Aug. 22—Spanish troops supported by airplanes, bombarded the positions of the Moroccan troops on the Alhucemas coast, doing extensive damage, said a dispatch today. Several thousand replacement troops are being sent up to the front.

BATTLE RAIN AND FOG IN WESTWARD FLIGHT

Bay City Ready to Welcome First U. S. Mail Plane To Reach Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. Under most favorable conditions during the remaining 600 miles from Salt Lake to Crissey field here, the east-to-west airplane cannot hope to land with its cargo by the Pacific ocean before 7 p. m., coast time, officials declared. Should the plane arrive here at 7 o'clock, the total elapsed time will be 36 hours, or 8 hours more than the limit of 28 allowed by the schedule. Bad weather conditions are blamed.

Arrangements were completed here today for the welcoming of the first United States mail plane to reach this city on the 28 hour cross continent schedule of the postal department. The ship which left the Atlantic coast yesterday morning is expected here late this evening. Claire Vance took off from Crissey Field at 5:26 a. m. for the east coast, piloting the second plane to leave here on the new schedule.

Second Plane Leaves

MINEOLA, N. Y., Aug. 22.—The second air mail plane in the 28 hour coast to coast postal service newly inaugurated, left Hazelhurst Field at 11:01, eastern standard time, today piloted by Sherley Short. The first stop of the plane will be Cleveland, 442 miles distant. This is the second of the five planes scheduled to leave here on five successive days. The first plane took off yesterday.

After the five trips have been completed from both sides of the continent a survey of conditions will be made and plans for a permanent transcontinental air mail service drawn up.

Flyer Turned Back

CHEYENNE, Aug. 22.—With an overcast sky and light rain falling, Air Mail Pilot H. G. Boonstra hopped off here at 5 a. m., mountain standard time, for Rock Springs, Wyo., in the air mail service's 28 hour coast to coast test. He was approximately 35 minutes late.

Boonstra was forced back to

JOHN CAMPHOUSE BANK'S CASHIER

Well Known Glendale Resident Becomes Officer of Hollywood Concern

John Camphouse has been elected vice president and cashier of the Central Commercial and Savings bank situated in Hollywood, corner of Vine street and Santa Monica boulevard, resigning from his position as examiner for the state banking department.

Mr. Camphouse became identified with the banking department by appointment of Jonathan S. Dodge, following the death of George James last winter, and continued with the department under the present superintendent of banks, John F. Johnson.

Prior to that time he was engaged for sixteen years in the banking business in Los Angeles, being associated with the Farmers' & Merchants' National bank for nearly thirteen years, rising from messenger through the various departments to the position of auditor. He was also connected with the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, Union Bank & Trust company, and held the position of examiner with the Los Angeles Clearing House association.

In addition to his diversified interests in the banking profession, Mr. Camphouse has found time to instruct classes in banking, being a member of the faculty of the University of California extension division.

He has been a resident of Glendale for over twelve years, living at 217 East Maple street, and, besides his other activities, has been interested in the Pacific Avenue Methodist Sunday school work and other religious activities.

TAX RATE FAILS TO CREATE STIR

charter, which is as follows: "The Council shall maintain the permanent revolving fund, now established and known as the general reserve fund, for the purpose of keeping the payments of the running expenses of the city on a cash basis. Such fund shall be maintained in an amount sufficeint to meet all legal demands against the treasury for the first four months, or other necessary periods, prior to the collection of taxes.

"The council shall have power to transfer from the general reserve fund to any other fund or funds such sum or sums as may be required for the purpose of placing such fund or funds as nearly as possible on a cash basis. It shall be the duty of the council to provide that all money so transferred from the general reserve fund be returned back to it on or before the end of the fiscal year in which said transfers are made.

"In any fiscal year, in which the total balance in said general reserve fund exceeds 30 per cent of the total amount of the general budget for that year, the council may appropriate such excess for any city purpose without returning same."

Have Reduced Budget

City Controller Saulsberry called attention to the fact that the budget for the present fiscal year amounts to $367.200, and that 30 per cent of this sum is $110,160 or about $31,000 more than the present reserve fund. The impossibility of using any of the general reserve fund to defray expenses for the present year legally was apparent.

"The budget this year has been reduced as much as possible," commented Mr. Saulsberry. "The council has found already that it needed to increase the appropriation for some of the departments."

Announcements by Councilman Hall of the public hearing on the tax situation attracted two spectators, it was indicated, when the matter was brought up for consideration. This makes it apparent that the public is satisfied with the rate, whatever it is, if it is needed to keep Glendale the most prosperous and fastest growing city in America.

LOCAL PERSONALS

Mrs. James C. Rives of Downey arrived in Glendale this afternoon and will visit until Monday at the C. F. Parker home at 221 North Central avenue.

Mrs. Louise Keese of Des Moines, Iowa, who has been visiting for several days with Mrs. Fred Gilleland of 438 Oak street, is now visiting with friends in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Glasscock of 360 West Elk street were the guests last Sunday of Mrs. Alice Ferry of Pasadena. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Glasscock and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hare also of Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunlap of Hollywood and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Funk of Colfax, Iowa, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, 333 West Broadway on Monday. The visitors had formerly resided at Victor, Iowa, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett before coming to California.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Allen of 352 West Lomita avenue are having the pleasure of entertaining as their house guest, Mr. Allen's sister, Miss Amy Allen of St. Louis, Mo., who will spend two weeks here. Last evening they entertained fifteen Los Angeles friends at an informal affair complimenting Miss Allen. Several other affairs are being planned for her during her visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bowen and son Ernest of 212 West Garfield street were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clauson at their ranch home at Upland Sunday. Mrs. Clauson, formerly Miss Murle Bowen of this city, returned with her parents and will be their guest until Saturday when she will be joined by Mr. Clauson in a trip to the beach for the week-end. Miss Alta Bowen of Los Angeles was also a guest of her parents on Monday.

Mrs. Anna Smith of 111 East Elk street, Mrs. Katheryn Farrell and daughter, Miss Kathryn of 435 West Patterson avenue, and Miss Hazel Flynn also of this city, returned Sunday afternoon from Avalon, Catalina Island where they have been spending an enjoyable ten days. Lieutenant John Gerald Farrell, son of Mrs. K. Farrell, has just recently been transferred from Honolulu to Rock Island, San Diego, and is spending several days here with his mother and sister.

Forty Card Guests

There were ten tables of Bridge and Five-Hundred yesterday at the weekly card party at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Mrs. Helen Campbell held the high score for Bridge, while Mrs. Haggerty of Denver won the Five-Hundred prize.

Mrs. C. H. Thompson was hostess for the afternoon.

GERMANS FEARING COMMUNIST WAR

Their Money Worthless and Acute Food Shortage Causes Worry

two and a half hours. Finally her turn comes—but just then the store's small supply is exhausted. The storekeeper announces that he expects more soon. The little white-haired matron waits another two hours; at last there comes a wagon with a few sacks. The new supply is so small that each of the women can only get five pounds of potatoes. She pays 13,000 marks a pound. Before the war one could get ten pounds for 3 marks.

Such are the conditions today, in the fifth year of "peace" in Germany. Nor are there any signs of improvement anywhere. Is it a wonder, then, that some of the despair-driven "paper mark millionaires" occasionally lose their patience and smash a few windows!

Exploit Country

Agitators of both extremes, to whom their party is everything and their country nothing, capitalize this misery of the people for their purposes. The spectre of civil war hovers over us every day and every hour. Serious newspapers contain articles coolly discussing all its possible phases and chances. Tactics and strategy in the "coming upheaval" are thrashed out with such astounding cold-bloodedness that one gains the conviction it is inevitable.

It would be untrue to declare that the policy of the recently deposed Cuno government was blameless for these conditions or that the possessing classes and the various political parties had done their duty in the same degree as the government employes and wage-earners of the Ruhr and Rhineland have done it.

It is humiliating, but true, that, just as in the World war, so in the Ruhr war certain profiteers have flourished in an indescribable degree. And the greatest and gravest mistake of the Cuno government was this: That it did not proceed against these human hyenas with all the rigor of the constitutional means that the law provides.

But the art of the greatest statesmen will not suffice to save Germany if, in France, blind hatred is not replaced by sound economic reasoning and acting.

The "French Rhone border" and the amalgamation of the French ore with the German Ruhr coal may found France's military and economic hegemony in Europe, but in the long run the death of Germany, which these French aims imply, will be the forerunner of the destruction of Europe. To demand the fulfillment of the Treaty of Versailles—especially in the sense in which France demands it—means, in the final analysis, to court the destruction of Europe.

It is "five minutes of twelve"—for Germany's internal policy as well as for all those who have the peaceful reconstruction of Europe at heart. If no saving "deed" is recorded before the clock in the "world tower" strikes twelve, then the skeleton of European civilization will crash to pieces, and over the resultant chaos will float the red banner with the hammer and sickle.

An average of 50,000,000 postage stamps are manufactured each day.

All Day Meeting

Glendale Presbyterian church women met yesterday at the church for an all-day mid-summer gathering of the Women's Society. Mrs. George McDill, president, presided.

In the morning a missionary program was presented under the direction of Circle Twelve with Mrs. D. F. Rae as chairman. "China" was the foreign subject, and "Cuba" the home topic.

The program had been announced as "Young People's Day" and Miss Helen McCormick spoke for the Junior Christian Endeavorers; Mildren Elliott for the Senior Christian Endeavorers; Miss Marjorie Smith for the Westminster Guild.

Other events were impersonation of a Chinese girl telling her life story, Mildred Elliott; reading on the life of a Chinese girl and a rescuer's work in San Francisco, by Mrs. H. H. Wiebe; a pageant by the "Light Bearers," the junior missionary society, directed by Mrs. E. O. Smith and Miss Louise Daugherty; talk by Miss Bailey, missionary from Montana.

Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock by Circle Six led by Mrs. D. B. Pingree.

During the afternoon a short business meeting was held and the time spent tacking comforts.

Convention Dates

The twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's clubs, including 178 women's organizations, will be held in Glendale April 8, 9 and 10, 1924, according to the latest announcement. Informal discussion of plans for the big gathering are discussed at every meeting of the board of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Sharing honors with Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Los Angeles District Federation, and past president of the Los Angeles Ebell club, is Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

The biennial of the general federation will convene in Los Angeles in May, 1924.

Farewell Affair

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lockwood of 514 North Orange street are anticipating leaving September 10 for several weeks' visit in New York and Philadelphia, and last night they were honored at a farewell dinner given by a group of Glendale friends at the Egyptian Village cafe.

Those honoring them were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Sherman, Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Boyer of Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Goodwin of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Wheeler and Miss Loomis of Chicago.

Apprehension is often voided by thinking twice.

HEALTH SERVICE Is Sure To Be Different

The health service you get from this office is certain to be different from the health service delivered by any other office.
All chiropractors practice a method of adjusting the spine, by hand only, but the results they obtain are as different as one man is from another. Every chiropractor interprets what he learns in a different way and the result is a different method of adjusting and a difference in the results obtained.
All chiropractors are different.
This contradicts the opinion of many people that all chiropractors are alike in what they do. They are not alike.
In this office you get a chiropractic health service that is different, for the following reasons:
1—Ebles are different.
2—They put a different interpretation on the lessons they learned in the chiropractic school they attended.
3—Their training was thorough, which gives them an advantage over any one less well trained.
4—Getting results in a special kind of disease usually brings others suffering with the same trouble. The result is that Dr. Richard Eble's experience, without any purpose to have it so on his part, has run more to diseases of the stomach and bowels, though his experience of years covers also a wide variety of other diseases.
5—Dr. Frances Eble specializes on children. Babies respond to her adjustments as readily as older folks.

If it is Eble service you want, don't expect to find a substitute for it. There is only one Eble service.

TALL AND SHORT WOMEN AT PARTY

Pay According to Height for Benefit of Tropico Aid Society

Additional data on the American woman have been furnished by the Aid Society of the Tropico Presbyterian church, which met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Robert Covington at 1901 East Gardena street for a "Short and Tall" party.

It was only two weeks ago that these church women participated in a "Stout and Slim" party, with admission based on the number of inches around one's waist.

The twenty church women present, contributing $7.60 provided convincing evidence that the average sized, modern woman has a waist measure of thirty-eight inches.

Now as to their height, the rules of the game" were that each one attending should pay 5 cents a foot to the height of five feet, and 5 cents extra for any surplus.

Figures Do Tell

As in the case of the avoirdupois event, no information is available as to the general tallness or shortness of the company, but inches as well as figures will tell.

Mrs. Covington and Mrs. W. W. Dunham, the hostesses report that twelve women and two children were present and that $4.25 was received as toll.

All of which leads to the safe conjecture that the average American woman is 5 feet, some inches in height.

Friends of the Aid Society are now anticipating a "Pound Party," with a toll of a cent or half cent a pound.

Dog-in-the Manger Tactics Close Beach

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—When Edward Zipf became chief of police of the aristocratic suburb of Wilmette he swore to uphold the rights of the common people with considerable zip.

When the days grew hot flocks of steaming common people living on the fringes of Wilmette got in the habit of going swimming in Lake Michigan, which proved quite annoying to the owners of the more expensive residences along the water-front.

The lake-shore inhabitants forbade the public to go in swimming, claiming that the beaches were private property and must not be trespassed upon.

Then the owners of the beach had the whole thing to themselves for several days.

Now, Eddie Zipf is no keggle-head. He knew the lake was public property, more or less. So he forbade the rich people to go in swimming, since they wouldn't let the poorer do so.

What's more, he stationed policemen there to see that the order was enforced. Now the beaches are left to the exclusive enjoyment of the sand fleas and water flies.

REBEKAHS HONOR TO MRS. STROTHER

Past Noble Grand's Collar Presented at Meeting Here Last Night

Glendale Rebekahs honored Mrs. Rosella Strother, district deputy president, at the lodge meeting last night in the Odd Fellows' hall on West Broadway, presenting her with a past noble grand's collar, beautifully fashioned of velvet with rich gold fringe and emblems.

The presentation was made during the business meeting by Mrs. Loretta Schwitters, past noble grand and at present district deputy grand marshal.

With a most fitting speech Mrs. Schwitters presented the gift on the behalf of the lodge, and an appreciative reply was made by Mrs. Strother.

Another enjoyable event on the lodge program was the reading by Mrs. Sadie Bronnenberg of an original sketch of the aims and ideals of the Rebekah and Odd Fellow organizations.

Serve Refreshments

Refreshments were served in the banquet room, where tables were arranged in the form of the letter R, and artistically decorated in the lodge colors. In the center of the honor table was a tiny well with a little doll figure representing Rebekah.

Mrs. Milly Keiser was chairman of the committee arranging the social part of the affair. She was assisted by Miss Bernice Coffey, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Baines, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Anna Dean, C. W. Ingledue, Mrs Helen McBryde, George Frost, Charles Pease and Mrs. Evelyn Hall, noble grand.

During the lodge meeting Mrs. Hall, noble grand, urged all lodge members to participate in the week-end beach party Friday and Saturday of this week at Topango canyon beach.

Provide Transportation

She announces that machines are to leave the Odd Fellows hall at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and that those not having means of transportation will be provided with room in cars of other members.

The program at the lodge camp at the beach will begin at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Hall's invitation was voiced in the following words:

"As noble grand of the Carnation Rebekah lodge I am hoping that every Rebekah and Odd Fellow and their familits will join in the big summer outing at the beach this week end. Pack up your camping outfit, forget business and household worries, leave dull care at home and journey to the beach for a happy time together."

Stantons Relate Trip Over Rocky Mountains

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stanton, of South Vine street, who left here by motor some weeks ago for Salt Lake City and other points, writes to The Glendale Evening News from Rawlins, Wyo., as follows:

"We passed over the Rocky mountains yesterday, reaching the Great Divide at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The roads are not bad and the weather has been fine. We saw our first rain yesterday.

"We have gone an average of 250 miles a day, making 330 yesterday. Our total is now 1600 miles for the trip. Gasoline has been 40 cents a gallon for a long time now."

The letter was written Saturday, August 18, and received this morning.

man debt, which is to cover the reconstruction of war-devastated France, postponing a definite settlement of the balance of the debt question until later. No mention is made of immediate settlement of the allied debt question.

Their Own Judges

France claims that Germany is spending more money in resisting the French in the Ruhr than she would spend in meeting her just financial obligations. The note characterized England's views on the occupation of the Ruhr as illegal. The note says:

"We have no need of outside jurisdiction to interpret the Versailles Treat. We have only to invoke the opinion heretofore expressed by the British government itself."

If Germany's present capacity to pay is "zero," it is due to the actions of the German state, the document maintains. The query is made whether the British cabinet wants completely to cancel the Germay debt under the pretext that Germany's present capacity for payment is temporarily reduced to zero. It is impossible definitely to evaluate Germany's future capacity to pay as well as her present capacity, the document contends, because today it is low as possible, and the present evaluation would only work to Germany's profit in the future.

The note avers that France has destroyed nothing in the Ruhr and that Germany's production capacity is stronger than ever. It is claimed that Germany's resistance alone is responsible for Europe's financial and economic condition.

France promises modification of Ruhr occupation policy, but only after cessation of passive resistance. The French, however, reiterate their refusal to evacuate the Ruhr completely until Germany pays up.

Denial is again made that France has any desire to annex German territory. French newspapers strongly support the note.

"It is courteous, point-blank, and firm," said L'Intransigeant.

Political circles consider the document the plainest spoken communication Premier Poincare has ever sent to England.

British Cabinet to Study French Note

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service

LONDON, Aug. 22—The French reparations note is under a cloud of secrecy. Great Britain's attitude toward the document will not be made known officially until Premier Baldwin and Foreign Minister Curzon have thoroughly digested it. It is known that France has not backed down from her original viewpoint, although many newspapers expressed belief that the communication paves the way for further negotiations. The communication is very lengthy and is divided into two parts, namely, the note proper and the explanatory coveing letter.

France argued in justification of her reparations program claiming that such pressure is necessary to obtain lawful payment of the German debt. Premier Baldwin's recent attack against Ruhr occupation was refuted. Finally, France went into a lengthy review of her reparations viewpoint. It is learned that the French note is regarded as containing many snags and difficulties. First is France's refusal to recognize a commission of inquiry to fix Germany's capacity for payment. It is feared also that the French proposals do not allow Great Britain a sufficient sum to pay her debts.

Another displeasing feature is the intimation that France wants to draw out the negotiations. The cabinet desires to have the problem settled at once. Premier Baldwin may defer his proposed vacation trip to the Continent in order to consult his colleagues.

CHAMBER FAVORS CITY PLANNING

Other Routine Matters Are Considered at Session Of Directors

shall be a member of the City Council, with the mayor, the city attorney and the city engineer as ex-officio members of the commission. Attorney Bert Woodard, who was present, raised the point that the city charter would take precedence in the appointment of such a commission over the general law of the state, but it was agreed that a city planning commisston could be appointed under the provisions of the Glendale city charter.

Favored by Directors

Attorney McBryde declared that the fastest growing city in America, as Glendale is, should have a planning commission that would lay out definite plans for the city's future growth, and the directors of the Chamber of Commerce agreed to recommend to the Glendale City Council the organization of a commission to work along the lines laid down in the statute.

The report on the work of the advertising committee was submitted by the chairman, W. L. Twining, who stated that many inquiries are coming in daily as a result of the campaign that is now being carried on in three of the leading papers of the southland, and these inquiries are being followed up, according to a definite plan. One result of the campaign, Mr. Twining stated, is shown in the fact that local real estate men are getting a number of buyers who are coming to investigate Glendale after reading the advertisements that are now running.

Will Advertise City

W. S. Gamble, a mail carrier in the Glendale postoffice who has been elected delegate-at-large from California to the Mail Carriers' annual convention that is to be held at Providence, R. I., from September 3 to 10, has offered to take a quantity of Glendale literature with him and to spread it around among the delegates. A specially designed card is being prepared and will be ready by the time Mr. Gamble starts east.

The action of the Suburban Realty company, 508 South Brand, in devoting to Glendale the space allotted to them in two radio magazines published on two steamship lines, is dealt with elsewhere in this issue of The Glendale Evening News.

The protest filed recently by The Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, claiming that discrimination is being shown in delivery charges made by members of the Los Angeles Wholesalers' & Jobbers' association in connection with the shipment of merchandise to Glendale as compared with those to Hollywood, Pasadena and other points adjacent to Los Angeles, formed the subjject of a report by D. L. Gregg, who stated that he had been informed that the free delivery system was in force solely within the city limits of Los Angeles. The matter is to be taken up with the Accessory Dealers association, to see if any definite policy on the part of the Los Angeles shippers can be determined and, in case of discrimination against Glendale firms, to rectify it, if possible.

Reports Are Made

Attorney Bert Woodard reported that the meetings that had been called by the Los Angeles board of freeholders to discuss the proposed new charter for Los Angeles had been postponed twice, but that the next meeting will be held tomorrow night, when he expects to have a report to submit to the board.

The present status of the postoffice situation was outlined by R. F. Kitterman, a member of the recently-appointed committee, who stated that a conference with Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson had brought out the fact that no locations are being considered at this time, but the committee has been assured by Postmaster Jackson, Mr. Kitterman stated, that he will confer with them before making any recommendations of a postoffice site.

Need More Bridges

The need of more bridges across the Los Angeles river was the subject of lengthy discussion, in view of the congestion that exists daily at the approach to the bridge at Los Feliz road, where, it is claimed, the road needs improvement and where accidents are of frequent occurrence. This congestion, L. H. Wilson declared, is keeping many people out of Glendale who would otherwise come into the city, and he urged that a movement be started and carried out to secure a bridge across the river that would connect with Griffith park and that would permit easier access to Glendale from outside points.

A resolution, urging the purchase of Verdugo park from the Haddock-Nibley company, by the city, was received from United Spanish War Veterans' Camp No. 67, and a committee will be appointed to meet with the Camp's officials and discuss the matter with them in detail.

Stand on Industry

The endorsement of stock selling campaigns by the Chamber of Commerce came up for discussion, and President Jesse E. Smith appointed R. F. Kitterman, P. J. Hayselden and D. L. Gregg as a committee to draw up a resolution stating clearly that, while the Chamber of Commerce welcomes new industries in Glendale, it will not endorse or sponsor, in any way, the sale of any securities to the people of Glendale.

COUNCIL MINUTES

Council re-assembled at 8:00 o'clock p. m. All members present.

Maps Adopted

Councilman Kimlin introduced a resolution entitled. "A Resolution adopting map of Tract No. 4244 and accepting on behalf of the public the avenues, streets, alleys, and public places shown thereon," which was read, and on his motion seconded by Councilman Horn, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2069 and passed.

On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, map of Tract No. 6663 was tentatively approved, and the City Engineer was instructed to approve same by changing the name of one street to Bonnie Brae from the center line of Cleveland Road to the east line of Lot 85, said tract.

On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Horn proposed subdivision of Lots 6 and 7 of the M. M. Lynch Tract, was tentatively approved as to the size of lots.

Tax Rate

Ordinance, fixing the rate of taxes for the year 1923-1924, was discussed to some length but no action taken.

Call for Bids

On motion of Councilman Horn, seconded by Councilman Hall, City Clerk was instructed to advertise for cast iron water pipe.

itself to fixing responsibility in its report, but also is prepared to advise the president what legal steps he may take to avert a strike.

Conference Wrecked On Wage Question

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 22.—The door to resumption of the twice deadlocked coal conference remained open today.

While John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America, reiterated that "all was off" as a result of the breaking up of yesterday's conference. Samuel D. Warringer, chairman of the anthracite operators' commission, took the position that the break was in reality only a recess.

The conference wrecked on the question of wages. The miners had demanded 20 per cent increase for contract miners and an increase of $2 a day for day laborrs. The operators refused this demand and offered arbitration which the miners spurned.

Strike September 1 was the only alternative Lewis indicated and in a formal statement he promised the operators, "the thrashing of their lives."

Under the motion of adjournment either side may make application to James Jorman, Secretary of the Joint Conference, acting for the United States commission, for a reopening of the meeting.

"The miners will not ask a reopening," flatly asserted Lewis. Warringer would not say.

Lewis and Warringer disagree as to what actually brought the break.

"It was a question of wages," Warringer said. "He would not pay the men more money," Lewis said. "His mind was made up—there was no sense in going on."

Arbitration — the operators' plea that wages, the check-off and all other demands made by the miners, he submitted to arbitration, was refused.

"That's the true story of the break off," Warringer said. Lewis' comment on this statement was that the miners have lost confidence in arbitration." He added he did not know when the miners would leave Atlantic City.

"We will stay today, anyway," he said.

Warringer declared that as long as there was a hope of resuming the conference the operators would be on hand.

In spite of the apparent, seriousness of the situation the operators believe a settlement is certain. The leaders of the miners do not expect to strike. They do not expect, for one thing, that President Coolidge will permit a strike to take place. If a strike does occur, however, they are prepared, they say, to meet it. The government, he says, has the utmost confidence in securing a victory.

Ball Fans Will Plan For Class C League

The proposed organization of a Class C baseball league, to be composed of teams representing cities in Southern California, will form the subject of a conference to be held at the Los Angeles Athletic club tomorrow night, and at which Jesse E. Smith, president of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, will be present. A number of men who have made their mark in the big leagues will also be present and will aid in formulating the plans for the proposed league.

The advertising value of the league, which would play a winter schedule, is pointed out by Mr. Smith, who states that the members of the Hot Stove league, in the east and middle west, would read with envy of the playing of a baseball schedule during the winter while, back there, they were compelled to snuggle up to the old base burner for warmth and where they pile on so many wraps to parry the biting blasts of winter.

The action of the participants in the conference will form the subject of a report to the Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday.

MARKETS

NEW KORK, Aug. 22.—The stock market closed irregular today. A sharp attack against leading railroad stocks, influenced by the unsatisfactory earning statement of Union Pacific spread to the industrial shares, causing moderate recessions.

Union Pacific dropped over 1 point to 129½, Canadian Pacific 1½ to 144⅜, Great Northern preferred ½ to 54, Steel Common ½ to 91¾ and Studebaker ⅝ to 105⅞. Baldwin, however, gained fractionally to 122.

Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular.

Stock sales totaled 217,000 shares; Bonds $6,363,000.

Cheyenne today by poor weather and left again at 8:42, according to reports received at Crissey Field, San Francisco. Salt Lake City, 400 miles distant, is the next stop. This will delay the arrival here until late this afternoon.

Reaches Rock Springs

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Aug. 22.—Pilot Boonstra in plane No. 295, which left Cheyenne at 8:42 this morning in the transcontinental air mail test, west bound, arrived here at 11:16 a. m., mountain time. Consuming only two minutes in transferring mail and taking on gasoline, plane No. 259 with Pilot Robert Ellis, left at 11:18 for Salt Lake City. Boonstra announced that his delay in departing from Cheyenne this morning was caused by a heavy fog.

On Schedule Time

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Westbound, the first coast-to-coast 28 hour mail plane was on schedule at Omaha and was expected to wing into Cheyenne this morning and out to Reno on time. Eastbound, there was a forty minute break in the chain when Pilot Colleson became fogbound at Laramie, Wyo., and Frank Yager, the next relief pilot, was ordered to make up the night flying from Cheyenne so that the east and westward flight tests might be completed.

Arrive in Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The air mail plane which picked up the west-to-east relay in the 28 hour flights arrived in Chicago at 9:40 a. m. central daylight saving time and, with a fresh pilot, hopped off again at 9:44 a. m. Because of the holdup due to fog at Laramie, Wyo., the first plane is not carrying mail from the Pacific coast.

William H. Rich on Way to Washington

William H. Rich, son of Mrs. C. E. Rich of 1022 South Boynton street, left Sunday morning via the Santa Fe on an extended eastern trip. He will visit in Chicago, Washington, D. C., New York City, Albany, and from there he will go to Boston, Mass., where he will meet his aunt, Miss Elizabeth Rich, with whom he will spend a week in the New Hampshire mountains. From there his itinerary will include, Niagara Falls, Cleveland and Detroit, Mich., where he will spend a few days with his cousin, Mrs. Howard Pierce, and Peoria, Ill., where he will visit with another aunt, Mrs. W. H. Rich. On the return trip he will spend a week in Denver, Colo., on business, and from there will visit Seattle, Portland, Sacramento and San Francisco.

Install Burglar Alarm In Robinson's Shop

Installation of a burglar alarm system, designed to frustrate the robbery of the store, has been completed by Robinsons Men's Shop, 114 South Brand, and the entire building is protected in such a manner that any attempt to break in results in setting off a gong that rings for twenty-eight hours without a stop.

The system is operated by electricity working on a continuous circuit, and every door and window is wired in such a manner that any tampering with any point in the building, from the front door to the back, and from the floor to the skylights, is certain to sound the alarm and bring the night patrol to the scene of the robbery immediately. The alarm is connected up at night by throwing a switch that operates after the doors have been closed.

One result of the installation is that the cost of burglar insurance is very materially reduced, and it is probable that the same system will be installed in other stores, which will, it is predicted, result in the connection of the stores so protected with the headquarters of the night patrol, thus insuring immediate action by the police in the event of a robbery.

Another Wedding for Little Church of Flowers

The possibilities of the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park, as an artistic setting for weddings, is becoming widely recognized.

Several weddings have taken place in the little gray stone church in recent months, and two mid-summer events of the kind are announced for tonight and tomorrow night.

At a ceremony at 8 o'clock tonight Miss Velda Adams, daughter of Mrs. Mamie Adams of 306 North Cedar street, will become the bride of Byron Lee Baldwin, also of Glendale. Over 200 invitations have been issued for the wedding.

The second mid-summer ceremony will take place at 6 o'clock tomorrow night, when Miss Lois Painter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Painter of 802 East Acacia avenue, will be the bride of Harold Peterson, also of Glendale.

WATER CARNIVAL AMONG FEATURES

Moon Festival to Be Made Amusement Event at Tujunga This Year

According to information obtained from the American Legion of Tujunga, Post 250, plans for their coming annual Moon Festival to be held from August 31 to September 3, include a water carnival and exhibition in the open air pool at the Garden of the Moon.

The services of several amateur and semi-professional divers and swimmers are being sought for this affair, which will take place on Sunday, September 2.

Clyde Swendsen, for several years a Los Angeles Athletic club star and champion diver holding many cups and trophies, has been invited to appear, among others. Answers to this and to other invitations sent to prominent aquatic performers have not yet been received, but a program of clever and skillful exhibitions is assured by the legion.

The festival this year is under the direct management of a professional amusement promoter, on a basis which assures the Tujunga post of a successful presentation of features.

Committees Named

At a meeting held jointly with the Woman's Auxiliary of the post several committees were appointed to co-operate with the manager. Plans include three tent shows, a merry-go-round without which no country fair will be complete, and evening dances in the open air pavilion at the Garden of the Moon. Refreshment concessions will be operated by the legion and special booths will be provided for merchants for display purposes.

The shows and concessions will be grouped about the pavilion in the Garden of the Moon, Tujunga's "Midway". Further details of the program will be announced as they are completed by the committees.

A "500" party and social will be given by the Woman's Auxiliary next Thursday evening at the legion hall, El Centro street and Sunset boulevard. There will be prizes, grand and consolation, for both ladies and gentlemen, and dancing. Refreshments will be served. The recent application and reception of several new members would indicate that these social affairs by the auxiliary are enjoyable. They are held every other Thursday, alternating with the regular meetings of the post.

Lighting Petition

A petition for annexation to the Tujunga lighting district has been circulated and filed that has the signatures of a majority of the residents interested. The district petitioning is known as Hillhaven, and the initiative was taken by L. S. Benjamin. Other names appearing on the paper are: Flora M. Morgan, for the Oak Glen Ranch, Inc., California Home Extension Company, by M. V. Hartranft, W. H.Richardson; Western Empire Suburban Farms association, M. V. Hartranft; C. W. Bryer, G. G. Swain Jr., H. H. Lonberger, E. N. Poag, and E. H. Weaver.

J. Bragelton is building a three room and bath cottage on Hughes street near Los Angeles street for Frederic N. Storey, Los Angeles newspaper man. It is the intention of the owner to use it as a week-end place.

An addition of a screen porch and bathroom is being built by Krank Sive to his place on Harding place.

R. B. Drake, who owns several lots in the vicinity, is building a four-room and bath cottage on his Walnut drive property near Los Angeles street. A stone garage is also part of the building plan. Bob Griffith and Leonard McVine are doing the work.

Tells About Mine

Mr. Drake is interested in mining property near Bishop, and relates an interesting mine yarn in connection with a shaft he owns in that vicinity, which has to do with the discovery of an old tunnel that was not hitherto known to the owner, who has no maps of the workings.

A short tunnel was discovered to be exuding fresh air near the roof and upon investigation the end of this short tunnel was discovered to be an obstruction of fallen rock, and back of it was a continuation for upwards of 2000 feet, in which there is apparently 10,000 tons of ore in sight, it was estimated.

A complete set of mining tools was found in the tunnel, apparently left there by former workers with the intention of using again.

There was also a copy of the La Porte, Indiana, News, dated December 12, 1886. Records show that the mine was owned at that time by a Hanford company and that a legal contest over rights suspended operations in the mine and assessment work was never completed and other persons relocated the property and established a legal title.

The mine property is located about twelve miles from Bishop to the north, on the slopes of White Mountain peak in the shadow of Mount Hood and overlooking part of Death Valley, the two extremes in altitude in the United States.

Mr. Drake plans to make his new building his home.

Patrons of Route 1, Tujunga rural delivery are advised by postmistress Halferty of the Tujunga office to get box numbers as soon as possible. Renumbering will begin on this route about September 1, and it is desirable that boxes be properly numbered.

In the midst of conflagration the deadest timber seems to take on new life before submitting to its doom.

Gasoline Prices Variable
Consider Our Advantages
Vacations And Vagaries
Welcome The Tourists!

—By Gil A. Cowan

GASOLINE prices are whimsy. At one station you will pay 15 cents a gallon, while a block farther along the same brand will be selling for 13 or 17 cents, as the whim of the service man may make it. They tell of one dealer in Glendale who could neither paint the figure 5 nor the figure 3 plainly. He compromised by putting a price of 11 cents one day on his signs and 17 cents the next to retrieve his losses.

And his prices were no more spectacular than the other dealers who figure it out for themselves to their own satisfaction. Certainly, the price war among the refiners is profitable to the public, especially in Southern California, where thousands of motorcars are in daily use.

Henry Ford has recently patented a scheme whereby double energy may be obtained from fuel oil. That is great, just so his flock of flivvers do not go any faster than at present.

The writer has often driven a Ford and never realized what a pace setter it is in the parade of cars travelling on our pavements. Just try to follow some of those cute little coupes some day—and it will take you the best part of two hours to get around them in a much larger car.

It is an age of invention, jazz and speed, an era of enlightenment in which we are living, and the modernity of Glendale makes it most apparent to those who come from the more staid communities of the east.

The Manufacturer comments on the subject of modern utilities as follows:

"Practically every home in this nation has advantage of modern conveniences resulting from development of electricity, telephone, radio, gas and quick transportation.

"If the service rendered by these utilities had not been made nation-wide and their output figured on a quantity basis, not even kings could afford to pay for a fraction of the conveniences which the American home has today for a few dollars a month. Electricity, gas and telephone are the greatest servants of American housewives.

"What we call household necessities in the United States are considered luxuries in Europe. What a monument to American initiative and enterprise!

"Is it any wonder American women are noted for their intelligence and beauty, when they have such servants to do their bidding instantly and without complaint?"

The Glendale Evening News has been carrying a series of vacation cartoons by Artist Bushnell of the Central Press Association. They bring to mind the fact that all of us like to get out in the open and away from the desk.

Among members of the staff of this paper who are enjoying a rest is W. S. Ingram, who puts the punch in the headlines and otherwise makes himself useful editing the news. In his absence the writer of Comment is "counting the letters" and composing the captions and hastily glimpsing through the reams of "copy" turned in by the telegraph and feature services as well as the efficient local staff.

Say, folks! It is some job! Just read The Evening News from "kivver to kivver" tonight and see the task someone has in getting it all put together like a house of blocks, which must be built anew each day.

Lots of fun, yes. Also hard work. And to think of Mr. Ingram kicking his toes in the salt water at Laguna Beach for two weeks!

Such are vacation vagaries.

Excuse us, please.

Being so busy, we should bother with writing this column ourselves when others write so much better and express our ideas. The Pasadena Star-News says regarding tourists in our midst:

"Southern California has had a large number of summer visitors who came from a distance. Soon the inflowing tides of tourist travel for the fall and winter will set in. It is pertinent for residents of this city to give attention to the treatment of these welcome guests.

"The mistake never should be made here of taking tourists for granted. Once this community began to treat these visitors with indifference or lukewarmness, on the assumption that they would continue to come here however coldly they might be treated, there would be a rude awakening. For tourists would not come here if systematically treated indifferently.

"It should be the purpose of the live-wire promoters of this city to see to it that tourists are accorded hospitable welcome. Various courtesies, big and little, should be shown them, to evidence to them that this community is thinking about them and that their coming here is welcomed and appreciated."

St. Bernard Dog Star In 'Call of the Wild'

In "The Call of the Wild," that will show at the Gateway Theatre starting Thursday, August 23, is a giant Saint Bernard dog named Buck. In this story, which as everyone knows was written by Jack London, Buck is the leader of a team of seventeen dogs, the other sixteen being regular Alaskan "huskies".

Fred Jackman, the director who made this great picture for Hal Roach, thought the huskies would easily outrun Buck, but the huge Saint Bernard proved to be more than a match for any of them.

The huskies are a quarrelsome lot and several times they tried to pick a fight with Buck, all sixteen piling on him at once. But each time this happened, he quickly freed himself of the pack and was ready for more, although he is still covered with the bites he got in the process.

Advertising Man Buys Schaidell Home Place

Faith in the future of Glendale avenue property is indicated through the sale of the Schaidell property at 240 South Glendale Ave. to Charles R. Stuart of Verdugo Woodlands by W. A. Hail of 1646 El Rito street, who is known as "The Verdugo Woolands Realty Man."

The consideration was $10,250 cash. Mr. Stuart expects the value of this property to increase from $200 to $2000 a front foot within the next ten years. He is making plans to improve it in the near future.

Mr. Stuart operates an advertising agency in Los Angeles. He is heavily interested in Hollywood business property, but considers Glendale frontage an equally good investment.

Brands Are Hosts to McAdoos at Lake Mono

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brand of 1100 West Mountain avenue, who are vacationing at their mountain lodge at Lake Mono, have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Willim Gibbs McAdoo and daughter Sally for a few weeks. Mrs. McAdoo is a daughter of former president, Woodrow Wilson, and her sister, Mrs. Francis Sayre, has also been a guest of the Brands.

Mr. Brand returned recently to Glendale by airplane and went back to Lake Mono by rail, leaving the plane to be recovered and overhauled.

Mr. and Mrs. Brand expect to remain at Lake Mono later than usual this season and may not return to their Glendale foothill home until the last of September.

TOBACCO OUTLOOK

With encouragement of its cultivation Madagascar expects to produce 3000 metric tons of tobacco annually within the next three years.

Maryland Garage Now Open Day and Night

W. W. Satchell, who has purchased the Maryland Storage Garage from H. T. Jackson and G. V. Forgerson, announces that under his management the establishment will be conducted as a day and night storage garage as well as a wash, polish and repair shop.

"I am overhauling and repainting the entire place," says Mr. Satchell, "and, will, in the future, give careful attention to all branches of automobile work. We will have tow car service, starting at once, and the Maryland Storage Garage will be open day and night."

Mr. Satchell, who is a member of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, recently sold a large service station in that city. Yesterday his wife purchased a home in Glendale and they will move here at once, where Mr. Satchell states he has desired to live for a long time, having observed the spirit of progressiveness and cooperation that exists.

Two 36-Hour Trances Only Few Hours Apart

AMESVILLE, Ohio, Aug. 22.—During a religious revival here, attended by much excitement, a young woman, seeking "sanctification," went into two trances, each lasting thirty-six hours. The trances were only a few hours apart.

ENGLISH INVENTION

Of English invention is a device in which photography plays an important part in the carving of objects in low relief upon such materials as alabaster, ivory and wood.

One who raves over trifles usually lacks appreciation of big things.

MILE-HI SWIMMING MEET TO BE HELD ON SUNDAY

Arrowhead Lake To Be Scene Of Junior National Diving Contest

The second annual Lake Arrowhead Mile-Hi swimming championship meet will be held on Sunday, August 26, under sanction of the Amateur Athletic Union at Lake Arrowhead in Arrowhead Woods, held under the auspices of the Lake Arrowhead Swimming Club. As an added attraction the junior national diving championship has been awarded to Lake Arrowhead and will be competed for on this date. A large array of gold, silver and bronze trophy cups and medals has been posted for these events and a comprehensive field of amateur champions has already entered the list of these competitions. Among the well known swimmers who will compete are: Duke Kahanamoku, Viola Hartman, Clarita Hunsberger, Marian Fletcher, Mary Wheeler, Olive Hatch, Ralph Summerill and Sammy Cohen.

BIG DEMAND FOR 1924 NASH CARS

Women Autoists Entranced By Beauty and Comfort Of Four Carriole

Since the new Nash models were placed on display in the showrooms of the Glendale Nash Sales, 112 South Maryland, the number of those who have called to inspect the 1924 styles has been increasing daily, with a corresponding jump in the number of sales, according to officials of the company, who state that the sales of the new cars have been greater than at any other period in the history of the firm.

Chief among the attractive models in the new line is the Nash Four Carriole, a car that is making a decided hit with the women who desire to drive their own cars and who want an automobile that combines ease of handling with the beauty of the Nash and the Nash's inherent merit. The ability of the Carriole to turn within a short radius is one feature that appeals to the women who drive, as it obviates the necessity of backing up and shifting in the middle of the street, where they wish to turn. The finish of the Carriole is another inducement to the women who realize that the beauty of the car causes it to stand out in any motoring company, while its commodious interior, with room for five passengers, and its rich taupe mohair upholstery and fittings in the latest vogue, lend an air of distinction to the car that is unexcelled.

New body lines, coupled with the new maroon and black combination of colors, enhance the appearance of the car, while the increased braking efficiency adds another safety factor that is an additional inducement to purchase.

Other models that have been proving popular are the new Six touring car, and the Nash Sport model, on both of which orders have been placed.

Prof. Cookman Will Lecture Sunday Night

Prof. Alfred W. Cookman, Glendale scientist of 336 West Pioneer drive, will deliver one of his interesting stereopticon lectures Sunday night at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church on "Some Interesting Birds of California as seen through the camera." He has been very fortunate in securing an assortment of beautiful colored slides which he will use in illustrating this lecture. Prof. Cookman in his scientific trips has collected numerous specimens of birds and material which he uses to advantage in connection with his well-known bird lectures which help to give one a keener appreciation of the bird life of California.

On Thursday night of this week, he will deliver an address on "Bird Life of Southern California" at a community gathering at Whittier to be held at the Whittier Methodist church. A number of Glendalians intend to attend this affair.

No Harsh Words Will Be Heard In This Home

CATLETSBURG, Ky., Aug. 22.—Clarence Henderson, 21, and Miss Ava Peck, both deaf and dumb, were a happily married couple today, following one of the most unique marriage ceremonies on record here.

When Henderson applied for a license, the county clerk pointed to each question of the form, and the prospective groom wrote his answers on a scratch pad. Similarly the minister performing the ceremony permitted the couple to read the service from his manual.

When the strange ceremony was completed the groom scratched away on his pad a minute, and then handed it to the minister.

"I will be good to my wife."

Suburban Realty Co. Combs Seven Seas to Bring Settlers Here

Not content with bringing in buyers of real estate from various sections of the country, in addition to the business they do with Glendale investors and homeseekers, Fred Johnson and Harold Blackmore, of the Suburban Realty Company, 508 South Brand boulevard, are reaching out into the Seven Seas for more people to sell Glendale real estate to.

An advertising contract that the firm has just concluded calls for the insertion of advertisements in the Yale-Harvard News, a daily publication issued on the steamers Yale and Harvard, popular boats on the San Francisco to Los Angeles run, and also in the Federal Radio News, another publication issued on all the ships of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company every day while they are at sea, running between the east and west coasts and also to Pacific ports.

Boost Glendale

The contract permits the Suburban Realty Company to furnish a column of facts and figures dealing with Glendale, the copy to be changed at stated intervals, and the firm has offered this column to the advertising committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and has authorized the organization to prepare the copy along the lines that are best suited to aid in the development of Glendale. The firm's offer was gladly accepted by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at last night's meeting, and the data will be prepared under the direction of the advertising committee.

It is pointed out by the Suburban Realty Company that the magazines issued on the steamers are small in size and carry their news and advertising in condensed form that permits the passengers to read it quickly, and the number of persons who will read of Glendale every day while passing the long, idle hours at sea, includes many people who are comfortably fixed with this world's goods and forms a list of prospects for Glendale that it is difficult to surpass anywhere or that can be reached by any other agency.

Mrs. Coolidge Names Miss Harlan Secretary

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the president, has retained Miss Laura Harlan as her private secretary, it was announced at the White House today.

Miss Harlan, daughter of the late John Maynard Harlan of Kentucky, former justice of the United States supreme court, was secretary to Mrs. Harding.

RICHARDSON TO PLAY FARM GOLF

Executive Is Matched With H. A. Jastro for Game at State Fair

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—Friend W. Richardson, governor of California, vs. H. A. Jastro, president of the California State Agricultural Society!

No, this is not a suit in court; it is a contest at horseshoe pitching to determine the skill and prowess of these two distinguished Californians and public officials at "farmers' golf." Both are experts. They will stage the game in front of the grandstand at the California State Fair grounds during the big state show. It will be a contest to the finish. No quarter will be asked or given by the contestants.

The governor will soon be back from his vacation and at the state capital. Meantime, down in Southern California he has put in some time at practice pitching horseshoes. Last week when the chief executive visited the Whittier State School for Boys he found time to throw the quoits with them, and these youngsters wondered at his accuracy and facility.

It will be recalled that the governor during his campaign last year frequently played the game in various parts of the state and got to be most skillful at ringing the pegs.

Issues Challenge

As soon as Secretary Charley Paine of the state fair announced the horseshoe-pitching feature at the state fair the governor made up his mind to enter. President Jastro, himself no novice at the game, bantered the governor, who forthwith issued a challenge, which the Kern county cattle king and agricultural board head accepted, setting the time at the forthcoming fair.

Jastro at the board meeting in Sacramento last week let it be known that he is in fine fettle to meet the governor in the arena at the state fair, having lately immured himself in his backyard, down Bakersfield way, for intensive training.

This battle royal with the horseshoes promises to be one of the zestful events of the big fair. It will be pulled off on the lawn in front of the grandstand before throngs of people.

Alleged K. K. K. Member Is Jailed by English

NEWCASTLE, Stratfordshire, Eng., Aug. 22.—If there is a Ku Klux Klan in England the courts are going to be hard on it, if the case of George Bosson is any criterion.

Bosson was haled into court charged with blackmail. It was alleged that he was connected with the dispatch of a letter to Mrs. Emily Margaret Harrison demanding $500 and purporting to be from a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

The judge committed Bosson for trial and refused him bail.

Million British Phones; Wrong Numbers Few

LONDON, Aug. 22.—England now has over a million telephones, the post office announces. The Star comments: "If many more are installed it is feared that there will not be enough wrong numbers to go round."

GRAPE CROP DAMAGED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Approximately 200,000 tons of California's estimated crop of 800,000 tons of grapes have been destroyed by mildew, sunburn and windburn, it was announced here by E. M. Sheehan, president of the California Grape Growers' Exchange.

With the threads of knowledge cemented together one has something to build on.

SANITARIUM HAS ROOM TO EXPAND

Site of New Building Ample And Land Values Are Steadily Increasing

In planning for the erection of the new $600,000 Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, the directors of the institution have shown themselves to be possessed of a vision that can realize the future that lies ahead of Glendale, and they are laying out their project along lines that will permit it to keep pace with the city's growth for years to come.

The new building is laid out in such a manner that the directors can, when the demand arises, extend the plant by the addition of other units to meet the need for a greater hospital than the present one.

The selection of the site for the new Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital insures the institution plenty of room for growth in the future, and it is inevitable that the demand for a greater hospital will arise in the not far distant future, as Glendale maintains its present rate of growth, and as the scope of the sanitarium's work increases, as it has done since it was first founded in 1904.

To Increase in Value

The property owned by the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, valuable as it is now, will share in the increase in Glendale land values that are making themselves manifest every day as more resi-

Realty Board's President Writes 'Buyers Coming'

C. D. THOM, president of the Glendale Realty Board, and widely known realtor and resident of this city, writes from "Somewhere in the Northwest" that—

"Everywhere I go I find people talking Southern California. I expect the biggest rush in Glendale that has ever been known, and they are going to be buyers, too."

His office finds that this rush already has started, according to the salesmen in charge. The Glendale Realty company, 131½ South Brand boulevard, has sold more houses in the last thirty days than in any similar period in the records of the firm, to say nothing of a large demand for building lots!

Coloradoans to Hold Picnic Next Sunday

President George H. Johnson has arranged for the summer picnic reunion of the Coloradoans for Sunday, August 26 in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. It will be an all-day picnic with basket dinners at noon. Coffee will be served, but picnickers will bring dinner. All the usual features are promised.

Natives cut up the green banana and eat it in soup, down near the equator.

STORY OF BLIND FOOD MAKER TOLD

Opportunity in Glendale Is Seen by Bakersfield Man Managing Factory

The ability of a blind man to overcome the handicap that has been placed on him is abundantly illustrated by the example shown by Charles N. Miller of Bakersfield, and the man who is to manage the factory that will shortly be opened here for the manufacture of "Brown Betty," a health food that was originated and sold by Mr. Miller from his little establishment in Bakersfield for many years.

Mr. Miller and his associates, Dr. R. H. Schwartz of Bakersfield, president of the company; and A. S. Kellog of Fresno, secretary-treasurer, recently purchased the building owned by the Victor Manufacturing company on San Fernando road, for their factory, and the machinery for manufacturing the health food will shortly be installed.

Oma A. Fish, 204 Hawthorne street, has received from his son, Nurl J. Fish of Bakersfield, an account taken from one of the Bakersfield papers dealing with Mr. Miller's battle against his infirmity and his success in building up his business there in the face of obstacles that might well have daunted a man in the possession of all his faculties, and Nurl adds succinctly to the account he sends his father, "Even a blind man can see opportunities in Glendale." He and Charles N. Miller attended special classes in one of Bakersfield's schools, and are intimately acquainted.

The account of Mr. Miller's life says, in part:

"With the incorporation in Mountain View, Calif., this week of a $250,000 company for the manufacture of 'Brown Betty,' a cereal food, another chapter is written in the life story of Charles N. Miller of Bakersfield, nationally known as a courageous leader of the blind, and at one time editor of the National Christian Advocate, a publication by and for men and women afflicted by the loss of sight. The food was originated by Mr. Miller, and the machine in which the meal is ground and dextrinized is an invention of the blind man's, and he has applied for a patent upon it.

Struggle Against Fate

"Charles Miller's life has been for the past 35 years a constant struggle upward against vicissitudes. As a boy, he lived upon a ranch in eastern Kern, and it was there, more than a quarter of a century ago, that he lost his sight and faced the necessity of reorganizing his life and his philosophy. There is a tremendous amount of courage in humanity, despite its many frailties and failures, and there is no evidence to show that Charles Miller ever faltered or lost heart at the task confronting him.

"When his family moved to Delano, he entered a college for the blind, earning his way by book canvassing and selling school supplies. On completing his education, he came to Bakersfield to act as pastor of the

POLARIS

—By Julia S. Nichols.

WHAT will the coming eclipse tell the world concerning starlight? The question which the world is asking is contained in the following lines by Glendale's noted scientific philosopher:

ODE TO THE NORTH STAR

Tell me, thou mystical guide of the night,
What of the marvels beyond thy rare light—
What unknown lessons of intrinsic worth,
Hast thou awaiting terrestrial birth?
Do atoms vibrating—red, gold or blue,
Sing of the composite structure of you,
Or, do the rays thou are sending afar
Offer thy history—beautiful star?

While on thy journey thru limitless space,
Hast thou a neighbor directing thy pace,
Or does some inherent value preside,
Over thy measures and infinite ride?
Tell me, I pray, what determines thy light,
And of the forces that govern thy might—
Answer by symbols which time shall not mar,
All of my questions—o wonderful star!

As at my window thy light dances through,
Scaling the spectroscope's grating anew,
Deep fascination still promts me to sigh,
Oh, for the law that shall fathom thine eye!
Now comes the morning to snuff out thy light;
Yet, tho I see not, thy face will be bright.
Dull apprehension then, may be the bar,
Veiling thy mysteries—glorious star!

LOS FELIZ SUITS JUDGMENT GIVEN

Property Owners in Default On Assessments; Demurrer Held Defective

Judgment today stands against those propety owners in Southern Glendale who, through the attorney for the Los Feliz Protective association, demurred to the claims of Steddom & Blanchard, a Los Angeles firm, which, it was alleged, did not give due notice of delinquent assessments, and thereby caused a merry row, some ten days ago.

The local parties concerned were represented by Attorney P. H. Wende after they had determined not to accept Steddom & Blanchard's compromise proposal in what they considered to be altogether too expensive proceedings in the collection of small assessments. L. W. Chobe was chairman of the protective organization meetings.

Attorney L. K. Smith, representing the firm, gave The Glendale Evening News the following terse, self-explanatory statement of the situation as it stands today:

Attorney's Statement

"P. H. Wende, attorney for fifty-five defendants in our Los Feliz improvement district suits, appeared in Department 16 of the Superior court of Los Angeles county Tuesday afternoon on demurrer. The court held that his demurers were defective and put them off the calendar.

"Default will be entered tomorrow and judgment taken on all of the defendants who have been served," concluded Mr. Smith, who stated he would determine if the compromise offer still held good after a conference with Steddom & Blanchard today.

Southland Singers to Be Given Opera Parts

The development of a Los Angeles Community Opera company, in which the artists would all be Southern California singers or instrumentalists, is the aim of the producers of the opera "Aida," which is to be given at the Hollywood Bowl on September 20 and 22, according to Alexander Bevani, in charge of the production, who addressed the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at their meeting last night.

In the coming production of "Aida," Mr. Bevani stated, only two of the leading artists will be brought from New York, the remainder of the cast, consisting of hundreds of people, being selected entirely from Los Angeles talent.

As a result of these two performances, he declared, it is hoped to pave the way for the organization of an opera company that will aid in developing the talent of the musicians of this part of the state and also in building a community opera house where the city of Los Angeles, as well as adjacent cities, would maintain a company along the lines followed in New York and Chicago.

MAYOR ROBINSON HOME AND HEARTY

Trip to North Woods Works Wonders; Son Tyler Catches Big Fish

Everybody happy? We'll say they are. Glendale's singing mayor, Spencer Robinson, is home!

Presided over last night's council meeting after arriving in the burg on Tuesday night, sans cane, sans rheumatism, sans twenty pounds or more.

But he sure is tanned and full o' pep, just like the cartoons of what vacation does for oneself And so is young Tyler Robinson, scion of the singing mayor, who accompanied his nibs over 3400 miles of mountain trails, also roads, sometimes highways, but mostly rough stuff.

Easy for Him

Cliff Olson of Los Angeles did the heavy work of driving the Studebaker, awakening the Robinsons from their slumbers and assigning camp work to Tyler, well knowing that it was a "complete rest" the mayor wanted. And the whole thing worked out "pretty," we'll say.

Among other things, Tyler caught fish—one nine and one-half-pound trout in Diamond lake, near Crater lake, Oregon. They also camped along the McKenzie river, spent several days in the Hoyt cabin at Odell lake, and kept sixty miles from a railroad, except when they visited Portland and Seattle.

Boosts Glendale

All along the way Mayor Robinson preached Glendale. That's why he had such a good time And he met Mr. and Mrs. Alex Nibley of the Haddock-Nibley company, in tow of three children, seeing the sights of the Rogue river, where the apples grow.

"Great trip!" says the mayor "Great trip!" is the echo.

C. D. and C. R. Lusby Plan Hunting Trip

C. D. Lusby of 208 Hawthorne street tnd his son, Dr. C. R. Lusby of 339 North Louise street, both officials of the Lusby Mortgage and Investment company of 233 South Brand boulevard, are leaving tomorrow for Mammoth country in Inyo county on a fishing and hunting expedition which will take them away from business for several days.

Tuesday Afternoon Club's Program For Three Months Includes Numerous Artists

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff

THE wonderful new home of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, with its splendidly equipped auditorium, has been a great inspiration to the club's program committee, under the leadership of Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward. Assisting her have been Mesdames Edwin Cleophas, Alma Gibbs, Roy Ballagh, E. B. Sutton and Alma B. Blake.

During the month of July these club women devoted the majority of their time to considering possible program features and the program they have arranged for the first three months of the club year is rich with talent and bound to add greatly to the cultural life of the club women.

Secure Best Talent

A meeting each week is to be inaugurated at the beginning of the club year, and so the program committee had a larger work than in previous years, for it was necessary to provide more programs. But they had at their command more money than any other program committee has ever had, and this enabled them to secure the best artists available.

Opening the year will be a program Tuesday Afternoon October 2, by ten members of the Matinee Musical club of Los Angeles, presenting "Songs, Dances and Lullabies of All Nations," arranged by Mrs. Lillian Ballagh of 308 North Louise street, founder of the Matinee Musical club. It is a colorful and artistic presentation, given in costume, and opening and closing with tableaux of the Madonnas. This will be "President's Day."

Other programs will be:

Tuesday afternoon, October 9, lecture by Upton Close (Josef Hall), "Melodrama of China." Mr. Close has traveled extensively in the Orient, and comes to the club with the highest recommendations. On this Tuesday it is hoped that Hugo Kirchhofer will begin his community singing hour.

Tuesday afternoon, October 16, the club women will be entertained by one of the feature progams of the year, given by the Philharmonic Trio, including Jules Letske, violinist; Earl Bright, 'cellist, and Alfred Kastner, harpist.

Tuesday afternoon, October 23, the relation between the individual club and the General Federation will be emphasized by an address by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, California director of the General Federation.

Tuesday afternoon, October 30, in charge of ways and means committee.

Tuesday afternoon, November 6, Maude Fenton Bollman will present "The Cycle of Life in Song."

Observe Charter Day

Tuesday afternoon, November 13, will be the annual "Charter Day," and the program is not yet arranged, but will probably come from club talent, and will honor the charter members.

Tuesday afternoon, November 20, Anna Zalenko, native of Russia, will give the story of Russia in song and legend.

Tuesday night, November 27, will be "Men's Night," and Mrs. Russell of Burbank will direct the program.

Tuesday afternoon, December 4, the Southland Women's Trio, violinist, pianist and vocalist, will entertain.

Tuesday afternoon, December 11, Edmund Vance Cook, poet, will read his poems.

Tuesday afternoon, December 18, will be the annual Christmas party for the club children.

The two following Tuesdays fall on December 25 and January 1, so there will be no club meetings.

Model Kitchen Puzzle Contest Winners Named

PRIZE winners in the Model Kitchen contest, which appeared in the August 11 issue of The Glendale Evening News, are announced as follows:

First—Mrs. Ethel Olo, 469 West California street.

Second—Norma Haskell, 656 West Broadway.

Third—S. Charles Singer, 530 North Central avenue.

Awards will be made at The Evening News office, and the scores of readers of this paper who participated in the contest are congratulated on the neatness of the "cut outs."

It dispiayed the great reader interest in The Glendale Evening News advertising columns.

P. E. EMPLOYES TO PICNIC AT BEACH

Expect 15,000 at Redondo Saturday, Reports H. L. Legrand, Agent Here

The annual picnic of the employes of the Pacific Electric, their families and friends, that is to be held at Redondo Beach on Saturday, August 25, is expected to bring out a record crowd, according to H. L. Legrand, Glendale agent for the company, who states that the large increases that have been made in the force during the past year will insure an attendance greater than has ever been seen at any former picnic.

Mr. Legrand predicts that at least 15,000 persons will be on hand to share in the day's jollification, which will include a long and varied list of sporting events, with prizes for the winners. Special preparations have been made to provide amusement for the children, free merry-go-rounds, ice cream, candy and lemonade, as well as shovels and buckets being furnished.

The general offices of the company will be closed all day, but the train service will be maintained as usual.

Concert Artist Sings At Gateway Theatre

Miss Bonnie Adair, noted beauty and winner of many prizes for the perfection of her face and figure, is featured in the vaudeville program at the Gateway Theatre today.

Aside from her beauty, Miss Adair is a talented and popular singer. She is a native of Houston, Texas, but will stay in southern California throughout the winter. In the spring, Miss Adair plans a nation-wide concert tour.

A magazine stove that will burn sawdust and lower grades of coal for fuel has been invented.

GLENDALE SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL

Authorized by the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, California. Legality approved by Title Guarantee & Trust Company, and by Kemper Campbell, Attorney, of Los Angeles, California.

Dated March 15, 1923—Due Serially July 1, 1928 to 1946—Price, $100 and Accrued Interest, to net 6 per cent. Denominations $100, $500 and $1000

EXEMPT FROM PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX IN CALIFORNIA

RESOURCES AND LOCATION

The property of this institution, which is included in the first mortgage held by the Trustee to secure this Gold Note issue, is conservatively appraised at more than twice the amount of the mortgage.

In addition to the valuable tract on which the new buildings are now being constructed, the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital Corporation owns one-third of a large block of land in the very center of the City of Glendale, appraised at $150,000, and included in this mortgage, on which is located its new hospital and maternity home, and which, at present, is the most valuable earning asset of the Corporation.

The location of the new Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital is all that can be desired, over twenty acres of elevated, wooded land, commanding a magnificent panorama of several hundred square miles of mountains, valleys, cities, and the distant ocean, having been secured for the new site.

TODAY—Labor Trouble in Ireland; Prohibition in Ulster; Unexploited Immigrant Trade.
TOMORROW—French Cuisine Retrogrades; Wine Industry Prospers.—By HARRY FLORY, Paris Bureau.

By DANIEL O'CONNELL
For International News Service

DUBLIN, Aug. 22.—While the problem of controlling the irregulars seems to have been disposed of—temporarily, at least—there are plenty of other troublesome issues to fret the Free State authorities.

There are some who consider the present lull in the activity of De Valera's followers as merely preliminary to operations to be resumed on a larger scale in the fall. Foremost among disturbing internal conditions is the labor problem.

Irish farmers, who are paying laborers twice as much as they get in England for the same work, have discovered that England, long the principal market for their products, is no longer available to them because of this disparity.

In an effort to retrench, the farmers banded themselves together to reduce wages. Widespread strikes, accompanied by burning of granaries and barns and other sabotage, quickly followed, while agitators said to be in the pay of labor unions are declared to be aggravating and prolonging the dispute.

Even the plant of Henry Ford at Cork was not immune from labor troubles. Frequent strikes were called there over trivial disagreements. The manager of the Ford plant, however, threatened to remove the plant from Cork, and that ended labor trouble there.

The view is generally held that unless wages of agricultural workers in Ireland are reduced farmers will turn to raising beef and mutton, which requires much less help, and that a great exodus of farm labor is certain to ensue.

Ulster has adopted limited prohibition. In the six northern Irish counties it is now impossible, so the law says, to purchase a drink on Sunday, though you may buy as much as you like on Saturday night and take it home and drink it on Sunday. Also the northern Irish parliament has shortened the hours that drink may be served on a week day.

By the recent act the Ulster temperance party won a complete victory and is now fighting for total prohibition, though at the next election the wets will run candidates to repeal the anti-Sunday law. On this issue the election promises to be fought.

It is difficult to estimate how many hundred thousand dollars are paid each year by the Irish emigrant, but it is certain that most of the money finds it way into the pockets of the English shippers. The American lines apparently make no effort to capture that trade. One has to look in vain to find a United States shipping line office both here and in the other cities and towns of Ireland, and one generally finds them in premises that are splashed with advertisements of English companies. The most one sees is a small advertisement telling that there is at least one American shipping line which takes passengers. The Irish trade alone is worth a fortune every year, but American business men apparently seem content to let John Bull monopolize this business.

DAYTIME WIVES NEWEST CLUB

Orphan Girl Is Adopted By Association

For International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—In addition to darning the sox and sewing on the buttons of their employers, officers of Daytime Wives, Inc., have gone a step further toward emulating the American wife "as she ought to be" and have adopted a baby. Chapters of the organization are being formed throughout the nation, the girls say.

The child is Betty Orr, daughter of Mrs. John Orr, who recently died. The girls called to see Mrs. Orr in her poor little home about a week before her death, and when they offered to take the child and care for it after her death the woman blessed the girls for their kindness.

Betty will remain with each officer for four weeks. At the end of the summer the members will draw lots to see who is to keep her.

Betty is an adorable baby just one year old, all smiles and dimples and baby curves. She is just starting to talk, and when Ruth Warren, one of the officers of the Daytime Wives, held out her hands to take her and said to Betty, "I'm Ruth," the child answered; "Wooth—wooth." This made such an impression on Miss Warren that she instantly decided to "adopt" the baby for the first four weeks.

The girls are so enthusiastic over their adopted baby that plans are under way to adopt half a dozen. Orphan asylums and the children's courts in New York are interesting themselves in the movement.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE HOSE

"Uncle Wiggily! Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy in the hollow stump bungalow one day.

"Yes! What is it?" inquired the long-eared rabbit gentleman. "Has anything happened?"

"No, but something is going to happen," spoke Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I am going away from here."

"Not forever, I hope!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, and even his pink twinkling nose grew pale. He couldn't think how he would ever manage without Nurse Jane to keep the hollow stump bungalow.

"Oh, no! I am only going away for a few days—on a little vacation to see my cousin, Miss Water Rat," said the muskrat lady. "And there is one favor I want to ask of you before I go."

"What is it?" and Uncle Wiggily took out his pocketbook.

"No, it isn't money," said Nurse Jane with a smile that made her whiskers curl, for, like all good muskrat ladies, she wore whiskers. "I just want you to promise to water my flower bed while I am gone."

"Oh, right gladly will I do that!" promised Uncle Wiggily, as he put his purse back in his pocket.

Then Nurse Jane went on a little vacation to see her cousin, Miss Water Rat, and Uncle Wiggily had a good time playing Scotch checkers with Uncle Butter, the goat gentleman.

And at last, just the day before Nurse Jane was to return home, and while Uncle Wiggily was over at Uncle Butter's house, the rabbit gentleman gave such a jump that he nearly spilled the twinkle off the end of his pink nose.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Butter.

"I just thought of something!" answered Uncle Wiggily. "I must hurry home and water Nurse Jane's flower bed. I forgot all about it until just now. I'll skip home and turn the hose on all night. If I leave the water running a long while it may freshen up the posies so she will never know that I forgot about them."

"I wish you luck," said Uncle Butter, as his rabbit friend hopped over the fields and back to his hollow stump bungalow.

Uncle Wiggily got out the hose, fastened it to the faucet and turned on the water.

"I'll give the flowers an extra good wetting to make up for having forgotten them," thought the bunny gentleman, as he looked at the long, thin, black hose winding in and out of the bushes. The hose was a long one to reach from the kitchen faucet around front to the flower bed. Uncle Wiggily watched the water spraying over the thirsty flowers. They had been hanging their heads and drooping. But now they took heart and looked up.

"Oh, how thirsty we were!" they whispered to the evening breeze.

Uncle Wiggily sat on the front steps all alone, having fastened up the end of the hose so it would spray the flower bed. The rabbit gentleman was wondering when Nurse Jane would come home, when, all of a sudden, tiptoeing in the gate came the Bob Cat.

"Ah, Uncle Wiggily is all alone," whispered the Bob Cat to himself. "I shall have no trouble creeping up and nibbling his ears."

The Bob Cat crept closer and closer. And oh, how hungry he was for ears to nibble! He hid behind a bush and waited for a chance to spring on Uncle Wiggily's back.

But just about then the rabbit gentleman thought he would move the hose a little to make it wet another spot on the flower bed.

"It would never do to make a puddle of water," thought the rabbit gentleman. "Nurse Jane would see it. I'll pull the hose to the other end of the bed."

Uncle Wiggily pulled the long, thin, black hose along. And as it went along by the bush where the Bob Cat was hidden, the bad chap heard and saw something. Looking down, he saw, moving through the grass, a long thin, black thing.

"Oh, my goodness! A black snake" gasped the Bob Cat. Now if there was one thing more than another of which the Bob Cat was afraid, it was a black snake. "Oh, I must get away from here quickly before that big snake bites me or squeezes me!" whispered the Bob Cat. "Oh, how unlucky I am! No ears for me today!"

Then he crawled away very quickly, so the snake, as he thought the hose to be, wouldn't catch him. Away far off went the Bob Cat.

"There!" said Uncle Wiggily, as he fastened the hose so it would wet another dry part of the flower bed. "There! How calm and peaceful everythingg is!"

And he went to sleep on the steps.

But if it had not been for the Bob Cat thinking the hose in the grass was a snake, things might not have been so peaceful and quiet. Anyhow, Nurse Jane thanked Uncle Wiggily for watering her flowers. And if the dusting brush doesn't tickle the table and make it stand on one leg to tag the piano, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Sammie's trick.

BILLY WHISKER

The Hooligan gang are being given a wild ride by Billy Whiskers.

"Pull on your reins and stop him, why don't you?" called the crowd. But they might as well have pulled on a ring in a stone wall for all the impression the tugging would have made on Billy when once he got his head down between his shoulders.

The bridge was just turning when they reached it and the boys turned white when they saw that Billy was headed for it, for they were sure he would miss it and drop them all in the river. They tried to jump out, but were so crowded in the cart they could not. Then their effort was to lean over so as to spill themselves out, but in this they failed for Billy was going so fast he jerked the cart right along. Whiz around the corner and onto the bridge went he just as it was turning. With their hair literally standing on end and eyes bulging from their sockets, the boys stood in the cart, too paralyzed to make a sound.

Once on the bridge, they thought that Billy would stop running and that they would be safe, but, horror of horrors! he kept right on past Mr. McDermott, who was turning the bridge. After Billy rushed past him his eyes followed goat and cart with terror in their depths, for he saw that Billy was going to plunge from the bridge just as he had once before, and take the boys with him, in which case some or all of them were pretty sure to be drowned.

Billy kept right on without a pause until he reached the opposite side of the bridge, and then with a quick jerk he plunged into the river fifty feet below him, carrying the boys and cart along with him. The jerk and then the plunge downward had loosed him from the cart, and as he reached the water he was free once more. The moment he came to the surface he struck out for shore, which he reached in safety. There he paused to look back and saw two black objects floating on the surface. Soon more began to appear one after the other, until he counted six. Then he knew none of the boys was drowned, but that all had a good scare and a lesson. Below them floated the old cart, turned upside down.

(Now we wonder what Billy did next, and where Nannie was all this time.)

Boston is enjoying a phone strike. They could have a phone strike in some towns and nobody would ever find it out. The service would seem normal.

Somebody has figured it out by the last census that in one hundred years the men will all be housekeepers. Those who are alive at that time will see some punk housekeeping.

POEMS THAT LIVE

O stream descending to the sea,
Thy mossy banks between,
The flowerets blow, the grasses grow,
The leafy trees are green.
In garden plots the children play,
The fields the labourers till,
And houses stand on either hand,
And thou descendest still.
O life descending into death,
Our waking eyes behold,
Parent and friend thy lapse attend,
Companions young and old.
Strong purposes our minds possess,
Our hearts affections fill,
We toil and earn, we seek and learn,
And thou descendest still.
O end to which our currents tend,
Inevitable sea,
To which we flow, what do we know,
What shall we guess of thee?
A roar we hear upon thy shore,
As we our course fulfill;
Scarce we divine a sun will shine
And be above us still.

RADIO

BY FRANK CHAPMAN

DRY CELLS AND 1½ VOLT TUBES

DRY CELLS are used for intermittent service, and as such, are just the thing for low current consumption tubes, such as the 1½-volt type. More work can be obtained from a dry cell operating intermittently than by drawing current from it continuously. As receiving sets are operated for a few hours each day and standing idle for the rest of the time, the ordinary dry cells offer a very good means of filament lighting.

When radio fans go into a store and buy dry cells they usually ask the clerk: "How long will these last?" This seems a perfectly proper question, but it isn't? He may tell you how much the voltage is and the amperage, but he does not know how long you are going to use it at one time or how much current you are going to draw from it at one time. The voltage of the standard dry cell is 1½ and the current ranging anywhere from 15 to 35 amperes. The greater the capacity (amperes) of the cell the longer it will hold up under a given service.

A dry cell and an audion can be compared to a tank with a pressure of 1½ pounds connected through a valve to a motor that requires 1.1 pounds to operate it. When the tank is full the pressure is 1½ pounds, and this is too much for the motor, so the valve is only opened enough to allow force enough to exert 1.1 pounds pressure on the motor. If it is a water tank the pressure gradually drops until it reaches a pressure of slightly less than 1.1 pounds, when the motor will not work, due to insufficient pressure. If you were careful and only allowed 1.1 pounds pressure to be exerted at the motor at all times, the motor would maintain a certain speed or power for a long time, whereas, if you allowed more pressure to pass, the motor would not run as long. The same is true of the dry cell, the tube and the filament rheostat. If too much current is allowed to pass through the filament, the life of the dry cell is reduced or shortened. As with the valve, the amount of current passing through the filament is regulated by the rheostat. Probably none of you have an ammeter for measuring the amount of current flowing in the circuit, so the best means is to just burn the filament bright enough so that you get god signals. Burning the filament too bright shortens the life of the dry cell and the tube and does not increase signal strength, as can easily be ascertained by test.

The 1½-volt tubes have an operating voltage of 1.1, and this means when your dry cell drops to that voltage or less the tube is not functioning properly.

The drawing shows two curves of dry cells in operation, "A" being that of a single dry cell delivering one-quarter ampere for two hours (the average A radio set is used) a day, and curve "B" a single dry cell delivering one-eighth ampere for the same period. You will note that at the cut-off voltage of 1.1 the life of the average battery is about 75 hours, while at the one-eighth rate it is 175 hours. In actual practice the current drawn by the 1½ volt tubes is one-quarter ampere, and to get the one-eighth discharge rate it is necessary to connect two dry cells in parallel. This gives you 87½ hours from each cell, which shows that it is economical to use two dry cells in parallel for each tube you are using. Tests have shown that when a smaller or larger current is taken from the dry cells their life is shortened.

If you buy a well-known make of dry cell you will get the results outlined above. Not using the dry cells is not economy, as they deteriorate lying idle just as they do when in use, but not to such an extent.

To get the most out of your dry cells, first buy fresh cells from a reliable dealer, who has a quick turnover; then use two dry cells for each audion; allow only 1.1 volts to be impressed on the filament; and last, make the leads to your battery and audion short and a large wire. Very small wire will cause a voltage drop between the battery and audion and naturally the dry cells will not deliver the full voltage to the audion with the added resistance.

Pointers

Ammonia quickly neutralizes acid, if acidentally spilled on the carpet.

Experimental sets should be laid out on the table rather than mounted.

It has been found that copper strip makes a better receiving aerial than wire.

By the Way of the Farm

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

It had been a stormy interview and Andrew Blake, as usual, came off best. Wood Blake, his son, closed the library door behind him, stood for a moment looking at the floor, then turned back.

"All right," he said as he opened the door for the parting words, "you will have your way. I will not marry a chorus girl, as you call her, but I'll take no further orders. I'm going West to make my own living. Goodbye!"

Outside he thought it over. There was no backing out now. Well, he had a little money. Someone in college had told him there was always a job in the Dakotas or Minnesota harvesting grain. Wood Blake bought a ticket, decided he would change his name to Tom Brown, and started out to do the first real work he had ever tried.

It was not far from Fargo that "Tom Brown" got a job from leather-skinned and angular Filbert Todd.

"Don't look as if you were any good, but the choosing isn't wide at present. I'll give you a try and, if you don't eat more than you're worth, it's a bargain."

The farmer's scornful look was a challenge to the young man, who responded by giving his full strength to the back-breaking task. Lacking in skill, he made up somewhat by willingness and persistence. At the end of a week which seemed months long he was in the good graces of Todd.

"That's right," said the farmer, "pitch in and eat all you wanter. You're earning your keep, young feller, and your pay, besides."

That was enough, Wood decided. He could quit now with grace and seek a job in a city. He straightened his aching body and was about to announce his intention when Todd snorted in exasperation:

"If that ain't just like me, I've left my long-distance specs in the house. Trot after them, will you? You'll find them in my room."

Into the farmer's bedroom Wood ventured on his quest—and there on the bureau he saw a picture of Trixie Treble. Here in Dakota, in a farmer's house, was the photograph of the girl for whom he had quit home.

"I say," he was excited with the discovery, "is Trixie Treble any relative of yours?"

"Never heard the name," Todd replied.

"That picture in your room!"

Todd eyed him keenly. "That's my daughter, but she ain't got no foolish name like Trixie Treble. Her name's Todd, like mine. Toodles Todd. And she's a play actor in Noo York, and a good one."

"Sure, she's a good one," Wood's agreement was enthusiastic. "Say, loan me the horse tonight, I want to drive to town."

In town Wood sent a telegram which caused some excitement in the dressing room of a theatre in far off New York. Trixie Treble read it, gave a shrill laugh and quit the company flat.

"This troupe will have to struggle along as best it may," she announced. "I'm going back to the sticks. Who wants to buy my ruffles?"

When Toodles Todd returned to the farm for a visit, the old man was delighted.

"What do you think," he asked of Wood, "of a daughter who will leave a leading position in the largest New York theatre to pay a visit to her old dad?"

"I think," said Wood, "she's a bit all right and, what's more, that's what I have thought for months." Then they let Todd in on their secret.

"I have fallen in love with a farmer's daughter," Wood wired home. "Am I forgiven, or what?"

Old Andrew was glad to capitulate.

"Nothing could be better," he said to his wife. "A sensible girl from the grain belt will be just the kind to keep him steady. I'd a lot rather he would marry a farmer's daughter than any social butterfly around here." The blessings were wired and Toodles and Wood started East on their honeymoon.

"Farmer's daughter or chorus lady," said Mrs. Wood Blake reflectively as the trained neared the city, "I am the same girl and good enough to be any man's daughter-in-law. What's more, as soon as he learns to like me, I'm going to tell."

Tomorrow—"Touching" the Heights.

Daily Fashion Hint

Prepared Especially for The Glendale Evening News

FOR THE YOUTHFULLY SMART

The model first featured is especially desirable because it not only lends itself to development in a great variety of fabrics, but is accompanied by a sleeveless jacket, which is not illustrated. The front of the waist is slashed to form a V-shaped neck, after which the fronts are underfaced and rolled with the collar, forming revers. The sleeves may be long and flowing or short with turn-back cuffs, or long and gathered into narrow wristbands. Medium size requires, without the jacket, 3½ yards 36-inch material.

The girl who is handy with the needle can make the second frock in less than four hours, including the embroidered monogram. The model is also designed for bordered materials. It closes on the shoulders, the sides being laid in plaits below the belt. A casing is stitched underneath the dress, below the waist-line, and an elastic inserted. The monogram may be done in self or contrasting colors. Medium size requires 3⅞ yards 36-inch material.

First Model—Pictorial Review Dress No. 1558. Sizes, 14 to 20 years. Price, 35 cents.

Second Model—Dress No. 1657. Sizes, 14 to 20 years. Price, 35 cents. Monogram 546, ½ to 2 inches high, 50 cents.

OLD-FASHIONED PREPARATIONS

Many of the old-fashioned beauty preparations are so good that not all the arts of modern chemistry have been able to better them. They have stood the test of time and are being made today exactly as they were a century or two ago. Here, for instance, is a formula for an astringent toilet water to keep the skin of the face, hands, neck and arms smooth and white:

Honey Water—Take a lemon rind, cut into small pieces, add four or five cloves and pour on one and one-half ounces of spirits of wine. After it has stood a few hours pour off the spirit, squeezing it gently from the lemon. Pour on to a quarter of a pound of honey, stand in a jar in hot water, add an ounce of warm water, and still more water until you have a pint. When this is cold add a pint of cold water. Stir well together.

Egg Toilet Water—Beat well the white of a small egg, add two tablespoonsful of spirits of wine, steep one handful of the tops of flowering lavender in five ounces of warm water. When cold add this water to the egg, straining it as you pour it in.

Lavender, which grew in all old-fashioned gardens, was used by our grandmothers for more purposes than to scent the linen cupboard. The flowering tops of the plants were gathered and bruised and white vinegar poured over them, covered and allowed to steep.

If you liked a strong scent you used a double handful of flowers to a quart of vinegar. When this had steeped an hour the liquid was strained off into bottles. A little was used in the bath water or wash basin, or it was rubbed over the skin after washing.

An old-fashioned freckle lotion consists of one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one tablespoonful of vinegar, one teaspoonful spirits of wine.

Lizzie—The only virtue in buttermilk for the complexion is its tendency to bleach.

When egg is used before a shampoo it should be allowed to dry on the scalp as all dandruff will then adhere to it. This is not a bleach for the hair, although the sulphur in the egg brings out any golden lights that may be therein.

Cocoa butter is all right to use for a massage on any part of the body, with the exception of the face.

Many old formulas are excellent.

A. M. T.—In a reduction diet the foods to eliminate are those in which there is much starch, sweets and fats. Five pounds a month will be enough to lose during the time of dieting.

Tomorrow—A Red Nose.

Some time ago I asked my readers to send me receipts for candies made with a mashed potato foundation. So many women responded that I could not publish all of the recipes at once. So I now print the balance of these excellent candy rules:

Potato Fondant, Mrs. N. P. L.—"Cook one medium-sized potato in boiling water until soft, then remove skin and press the potato through a sieve. Measure, and to one cup of the potato add two cups of confectioners' sugar, working together till well mixed. Flavor with one teaspoon of vanilla, and press the mixture into a bread pan to harden. Cut in squares." This recipe, with but slight variations, is given by a large number of readers. Some of them, for instance, change the recipe in this way: "Boil two small potatoes then remove skin and mash with one tablespoon of butter; work in one and one-half pounds of confectioner's sugar, then one tablespoon of dry cornstarch; work till stiff enough to be handled, then add any desired flavoring, place on a board to harden, and cut in circular shapes." Still another reader (Mrs. G. B.) says: "Boil one medium-sized potato till soft, mash, and while still hot add one teaspoon of butter and enough milk or cream to make smooth; then add one tablespoon of dry cornstarch and enough confectioners' sugar to make stiff. Flavor and let harden." In the following recipes it is understood that one of these varieties of fondant will be used.

Bonbons: "Chopped dates, raisins or figs added to potato fondant make excellent bonbons.—L. M. B."

Peanut Butter Roll: "Make ordinary potato fondant, roll it quite thin with a rolling pin, then spread the entire surface with peanut butter; now roll the sheet of fondant up on itself—like a jelly roll. Cut in slices. A Reader."

Walnut Creams: "Cut potato fondant into small circles (about one inch thick) and, while still soft press a half walnut meat into the center. Place another walnut meat on top and let harden. Mrs. R. C. B."

Cocoanut Candy: "Roll little balls of potato fondant in grated cocoanut, and also work some of the cocoanut into the inside of the balls, if desired. Mrs. B."

Chocolate Coated Creams: "Buy ten cents' worth of cocoa butter and dissolve this with one cake of unsweetened cooking chocolate; dip balls of hardened potato fondant into this and let the coating harden. A. E. T."

Side Talks

THE CHILDREN'S WORLD

What a wonderful world this is for children! And especially for young folks in their teens.

If you don't realize it fully, just go out by the roadside one of these summer days and watch the cars go by. You won't have long to wait before you will see some big car driven by a boy or girl who presumably is 16 but perhaps looks much younger. The car is filled with young folks and hilarity. They are tearing over the country at, heaven knows, how many miles an hour, stopping here for tea at an expensive tea house, or there to dance at a road house, covering perhaps 100 miles of country before they bring back the car at night—in case Dad is selfish enough to want to use it.

Walking or Riding a Bicycle

What would those children have been doing fifteen years ago? Taking a walk, perhaps, dancing in the casino, or possibly riding bicycles.

In the community garage at our summer colony there are at least a dozen cars which are at the service of the youngsters of the family. Sometimes they drive them fairly well; more often they drive with the slap dash of youth, dangerous to the passerby and deadly to the machinery. Gears are slammed protestingly into place, steering gear is strained, tires are neglected, engines are raced. All of which means money sometimes. Often the cost of a youngster's abuse of a car for the summer would buy two or three bicycles. To say nothing of the cost of gasoline and oil.

Where Is Such a Father?

But what will you? Where is the father hard hearted enough to hear that Sam Jackson and Dick Pearson can have their fathers' cars any time they want them and that all the boys say his father is a piker?

I was told the other day of a boy who was allowed to use the family car freely but was not satisfied. He wanted a car of his own, a closed car, and was heard by his mother to mutter irately as he got into his dance clothes: "I would think a fellow might have a car of his own to take a woman to a dance."

Funny, yes. But rather terrific if you stop to think of it.

A canvass was made by a newspaper writer in a certain city of a school district in which no rich people lived, a district representative of the average salaried man, to find out how much money the pupils spent a week.

What Children Expect

The canvass showed that the average girl spent $4.15 a week and the average boy $2.53 a week. This was merely for daily incidentals such as telephones, carfares, cigarettes, ice cream sodas and movies. It did not include books or subscriptions to athletic funds. Such things their parents paid for them.

Fifteen or twenty-five years ago the child who had $4 a week to spend or even $2.50 would have been considered a pocket money Croesus.

Truly if money and luxuries make happiness, the children of today ought to be happier than any children that ever lived.

Do you think they are?

Tomorrow—A Niche Awaiting.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

SPIRITUALITY VS MATERIALITY

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. C.—I don't believe there was any special virtue in the vegetable oil you took, which caused you to gain, that would not be found in any vegetable oil. I rather think it added to the total number of calories in your diet enough to give you a surplus so you could gain. Thank you for writing.

Mrs. T.—Painful hemorrhoids (piles) that do not disappear under medication and careful attention to the diet so as to prevent constipation and diarrhea, should have attention from a rectal specialist (Proctologist). Most people experience entire relief after they are removed. It can be done under local anaesthesia.

G.—As you are only 15 years old you have quite a few years yet that you must attend to the business of growing. I am glad you hate to be fat and are going to reduce. The pamphlet has been sent you. Please remember, dear, about this growing business and don't cut out any of the growth foods from your diet. You had better have at least a pint of milk a day, and better still, more. You will have to cut out your candy and ice cream calories and excess bread and butter.

Mrs. B.—We have an article on colic in babies which you may have by remembering our rules about sending a stamped and self-addressed envelope to me with your request for it.

Mrs. M.—We have articles you may have on neuritis and on itching without apparent cause (pruritis). There always is a cause for itching, though; often the diet is wrong.

That cheesy gland on your husband's neck which is in an irritating place, may be a sebacious cyst. If so, the material in it is the same as the material in blackheads (sebum), the product of the oil glands of the skin. He had better have it cut out. It will be a simple operation under local anaesthesia. But if he continues to irritate it, it might develop into worse than a sebacious cyst.

Any growth on the skin which is in a position to be constantly irritated, may change to a cancerous growth. We know that chronic irritation, even when there is no abnormal growth, may stimulate the cells so that they begin to grow abnormally and form a cancer. For instance, a jagged tooth irritating the tongue constantly has done this, and the pipe smoker's cancer of the lip is another example. (It needn't be a pipe, either—chronic burning by cigars or cigarettes can do the work as well).

Mrs. H.—You say you are "disgustingly" fat, and that you never eat pies nor white bread nor candy. My dear, you are certainly eating too much of something or you wouldn't be so d—fat; I find the idea is quite common that only the white bread is fattening. There is very little difference in the caloric value—which means, therefore, the fattening value of the different breads. And remember that toast is still bread. It doesn't lose a calorie in the toasting. We advise it because it makes you chew.

Perhaps by this time you have counted the calories you have been consuming, and know where you have been making your mistakes. Until you do, of course, you'll be no thinner. Did you send for our pamphlet on reducing? If so, you know what you must do; if not, you'd better.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 250 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Home Run Craze Wearing Out as Circuit Clouts Grow All Too Common

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The "jackrabbit," that asinine concoction that has made baseball a strong-arm proposition and George H. Ruth, the well-known outfielder, a figure of almost international consequence, is again coming in for immoderate criticism. Too many home runs are now said to have sated the public palate and sacrificed the sicentific side of baseball to the business of slugging. Therefore, they contend, the lively ball should go.

Their contention is not without justice. Home runs, except in New York, have lost their appeal because their amazing frequency has lessened their value in the eyes of the customers. You might have a weakness for Hungarian goulash, but not if it were served to you as a constant diet.

A glance at the records is all that is necessary to emphasize the passing of scientific baseball since the "rabbit" was introduced in 1920. Base stealing was then one of the older and nobler arts. It is no more.

Twelve Was Limit

In 1906, for example, most of the ball players hit a baseball with as much enthusiasm as they do today, but where Ruth and others range above forty to the season, the leaders in those days were Tim Jordan and Harry Davis, with twelve apiece. Such a total now would be regarded with pitying scorn, if at all.

The National League total was 126 in 1906 as against 446 early in August of this year, with more than fifty games to be played. In the same way the American League had produced 314 as against 123 for the full season in 1906.

Star Base Stealers

In those days and immediately thereafter Cobb and Eddie Collins stole as many as eighty and ninety bases in a season. Today the entire American League has stolen less than 500. This is a ridiculous figure when the fact is mentioned that the Giants stole 288 bases in 1906. The same team, by the way, hit only fifteen homers for that season.

The mining industry in Pennsylvania is now working to full capacity.

WOOD COWAN

Zev, son of The Finn, Sinclair's Kentucky Derby winner and a three-year-old whose performances this season stamp him as the leading horse of the season, is almost—but not quite—a Man o' War.

This hoss was a winner of the Withers and the Belmont stakes, and the Paumonok, Rainbow and Queens County Handicaps. His earnings mount up to $150,000.

In winning the derby, Zev beat the best three-year-olds in all the land, both east and west.

While he has not been a consistent winner—perhaps because he has been sent against older horses, while Man o' War confined his activities to three-year-olds—Zev, nevertheless has taken about all the top notchers in every division into camp at one time or another.

Man o' War lost but one race in all his career. But be it said that he did not have the class of horses to compete against him that are now found in the ranks of the three-year-olds. Zev was beaten in the Futurity last fall as well as in the Preakness this spring; but from all reports he was wicked while at the post in both races, which might be excuse enough for his showing.

Last year he ran like a sprinter, but this season he has broadened into a bigger horse and has proven to be a nag with a great heart and a stayer to the last stride.

This fellow is a great traveler. Like Man o' War, he can walk out of a box car and step a mile in close to his best time. He is possessed of a fine temperament, as honest as that of Exterminator, and nothing seems to dull his racing spirit.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Many of the baseball critics are of the opinion that the New York Giants have passed the critical stage of their journey toward their pennant and that they now look to be the ultimate winners.

This means that again the two New York teams would meet for the World's series. Whether or not this is the best thing, looking at it purely from a baseball point of view, is a matter for conjecture. These two teams have played for the world title for several years and there are many who think that New York has had a surfeit of baseball between these two clubs and would welcome watching some outside team battle with their champions.

On the other hand, the Yankees have been humbled so often by McGraw's men that it is dollars to doughnuts that they will bitterly contest the coming series. To be away ahead in the American League and then be beaten by the Giants would make for the inference that the clubs of the American League were of decidedly lower order of capability to those of the National League. The Yankees will want to disprove this notion and they will have to win this year in order to do so.

To this writer it seems that it will make little difference what clubs eventually clash. Baseball never was more popular than it is today and it is sure to draw capacity houses. There is no worry on this score. In the light of the circumstances enumerated above, there is every likelihood that a world's series between the two New York teams would be about as strenuously contested a set of games as could possibly be staged anywhere.

Baseball games were canceled and boxing bouts called off and other athletic events postponed in tribute to the late President Harding. This was as it should be and to be expected as a mark of respect to the nation's chief executive, but when a ball club goes to the extent of putting mourning bands on the arms of its individual players it smacks of playing to the grandstands and being done for the purpose of getting something about it into the newspapers.

Harding was a patron of sports because of his interest in and encouragement of them and the sporting world has sustained a loss, but to get down to tagging a mourning band on a player as part of the required uniform on a professional diamond seems to be out of taste and inappropriate for the occasion or the place.

The WORLD OVER

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Henry L. Sullivan, who recently became one of the three men who have achieved the distinction of swimming the English Channel, is entitled to every credit for his perseverance and determination. It was his seventh attempt that proved successful, and few persons realize the time and money that this means.

During 1920 Sullivan essayed the feat twice. On one of these occasions he came within two and one-half miles of his goal after being in the water nineteen hours and thirty minutes. The second time he was within a mile of the French shore after an immersion of eighteen hours and thirty minutes. Had he been able on either of these two occasions to make the final distance he would not only have achieved the swim but would have broken the times made by both Captain Matthew Webb in 1875 and William T. Burgess in 1911. As it is, Sullivan's time is several hours longer than either one of his successful predecessors.

No man has been more persistent in his attempts to swim the Channel than Jabez Wolffe, the veteran English swimmer, who has made twenty-one unsuccessful attempts to cross. The word discouragement does not seem to be in the lexicon owned by Jabez, for he says that he is going to keep after the job. In 1902 Wolffe was within sight of the Calais pier when he was taken sick and compelled to quit after being in the water twenty-three hours.

Montague Holbein of England is another swimmtr who only failed of the swim by a short margin. In 1903 he arrived within a mile of Dover after swimming twenty-two hours and twenty-one minutes, giving up because of exhaustion.

Two men who claimed to have made the swim never have been able to substantiate the fact. Captain Davis Dalton of New York declared he swam the Channel in August, 1890, in twenty-three hours and thirty minutes. He declared he swam the entire distance on his back and became so blinded by the salt water that for several months he was practically sightless.

Sam Mahoney of Revere Beach, Mass., asserted that he swam from Sangtagee, France, to South Foreland in September, 1908, but has failed to prove the fact.

A number of women have essayed to swim, but none ever has conquered the Channel. Among these was Annette Kellerman, the native-born Australian swimmer, at one time considered about the best long distance performer that her sex has produced. Annette made several attempts. Rose Pitinof of Boston was another woman with Channel aspirations.

Wills and Firpo Will Battle Next April

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Tex Rickard announced yesterday afternoon he had signed Luis Angel Firpo to meet Harry Wills, negro heavyweight champion of the world, for a bout to be held in Argentine next April.

Wills had not yet signed for the bout, Rickard said, but added he expected to sign him without trouble.

Firpo signed two contracts, Rickard said, one contingent on his winning his bout, September 14, with Jack Dempsey, world's champion, and the other in event he loses.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Jimmy De Forrest, known as the "maker of champions," sang an old tune in a new tempo today as he reviewed the chances of Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine, against Jack Dempsey on September 14. His remarks, in effect, constituted a warning that the champion would not do well to dally overlong with the thought that Firpo is a push-over, i. e., an elegant polished term meaning a sap. The statement is somewhat at variance with De Forrest's declaration at the conclusion of the Willard-Firpo tussle, that it would be suicidal to send the Senor out after Dempsey at this stage of the immature. However, many a man has put a clean collar on an old shirt.

Fears for Champ

"Dempsey is up against a much tougher fighter than he realizes, if he fails to take the coming match seriously," quoth James. "Firpo is not to be trifled with. He is a dangerous fighting man. However, I will repeat what I have said before, that Firpo is not yet ready for the championship."

This qualification, seemingly, was not prompted by spleen. Until recent weeks, James was Firpo's trainer, but has been replaced by Angel Horado LaVelle, a sartorial riot just in from Buenos Aires. De Forrest seems to have taken the change in fortunes philosophically and with the best of grace. He is still interested in Dempsey in spite of the fact that the champion dropped him overboard to trim ship after De Forrest had trained him for the Willard affair at Toledo.

There is no trouble of any kind, between Firpo and me," said De Forrest. "The coming of LaVelle was really a surprise to me. When Firpo left on his barnstorming trip through the west he slapped me on the shoulder and declared in broken English that we would stick together to the end. He didn't send word to me that he was making a change. He just went ahead and made it."

DEMPSEY TAKES TRAINING 'EASY'

Toys With Sparring Partners in Preparation for Fight With Firpo

By ARTHUR STREWE
For International News Service

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Jack Dempsey's training efforts up to this moment never will cause his family any worry about the possibility of his suffering a nervous breakdown.

The champion ever since his arrival here has been taking things very, very easy. His sparring partners do not need any false whiskers to assist them in deciding them when he begins to punch. The very fact that Dempsey has not yet buckled down to real work, has caused him to burlesque sparring rather than train in strenuous fashion. There's a reason—perhaps. It is explained in this way by Jack Kearns:

Fear Overtraining

"The champion's greatest fault lies in the fact that when he once tears into work, he doesn't know when to slow down. He's been overtrained for nearly every one of his important fights. He will not be overtrained. I am making him go along slow and easy now and will make him stick to that routine for a little while longer. Then when I figure it is time for him to tear loose he will do the tearing and will continue to tear along right up to the moment he jumps into the ring with Firpo."

"And then, what?" inquired an innocent bystander.

Just Like That

"Well, then," replied Kearns, "he will tear right into Luis. And when he gets through they'll be tearing sheets apart so as to tie Luis together."

Meanwhile Dempsey boxes a bit each day, plays pinochle, sleeps, eats, takes long hikes and occasionally sprints along the roads.

LABOR DAY CARD PLAN OF LEGION

Bull Montana to Give John Hackenschmidt a Tussle; Boxers Lined Up

By ART SHERBORNE
Of The Evening News Staff

Labor Day's major local sport, according to present indications, will be a card to be put on under the auspices of Post 127 of the American Legion.

Completion of the principal details were announced this morning by Chalmer D. Day of 521 East Elk avenue, commander of the local post.

The main event of the occasion will be a grappling match between John Hackenschmidt and Luigi Montagni, who is better known in the movies and in the sporting world as "Bull Montana," if nothing intervenes to keep "The Bool" out of the ring.

Three boxing bouts, each one of which promises to be snappy and full of pep, have been arranged by Matchmaker Lester Marston to complete the program. He is certain that each of them will be well worth attendance.

Glendale vs. Burbank

The semi-final event will be a go between Johnny Meyer of the Glendale Fire department, one of the most popular fighters in Los Angeles county, and "Arizona Wildcat" of Burbank, who has a terrifying reputation for ferocity.

The intermediate match will be between "Young Woodley" of San Francisco and Freddie Klaigge of Pasadena. This promises to be a fast bout. Klaigge has considerable reputation owing to his recent treatment of "Kid Essex," a local boy who has received much recognition in the arena.

The lightweight bout will be between "Young Joe Rivers" of Los Angeles and Jack Carr of Glendale. Carr is known as one of the fastest fighters in this vicinity.

Looking for Site

The place in which this card will be staged has not been definitely decided upon. A conclusion in regard to it is expected to be reached this afternoon. The main point in the opinion of the special committee of the American Legion, which has been investigating the subject, is to obtain a place which is large enough to accommodate the crowds which are expected to come from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Burbank, and other communities.

FLAGSHIP FLOATED

SEATTLE, Aug. 22.—The cruiser Seattle, flagship of the Pacific fleet, which grounded Tuesday morning on Marrow Stone Point, near Port Townsend, was floated late yesterday by five navy tugs, according to a dispatch to the Seattle Chamber of Commerce. Little damage was done to the ship and she proceeded to Bremerton under her own power.

TEARS SAVE YOUTH

PASADENA, Aug. 22.—Tears saved Joseph Yaunker from a preliminary hearing Tuesday in Justice of the Peace J. R. Morton's court on a charge of forgery. When the tall, athletic young fellow broke out into tears, the justice began to make inquiries as to his age, and learned he is only 17.

TAGGING ALL BASES

The Giants' lead, shrinking like a cotton necktie, was reduced to three and a half games when the champions lost to the Pirates again, 9 to 5, in spite of the appearance of seventeen men in the line-up, including four pitchers.

Aided by strong hitting by Hornsby and Bottomley, the Cardinals stepped out to an 8 to 2 decision over the Braves.

* * *

The Reds made it three in a row over the Phillies by riding hard on Behan after the first six innings. Duncan leading the attack with four hits. Score 7 to 5.

* * *

The Cubs continued to maltreat the Dodgers 9 to 1, Vance being clubbed for 10 hits in eight innings.

Oklahoman Leading In Doubles Shooting

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—After being defeated by a single bird in the shoot-off for the Lake Michigan introductory trapshoot meet here, W. Lambert of Oklahoma City shared the top position Tuesday afternoon in the list of early finishers for the North America amateur doubles in the trapshooting tournament, with C. A. Gunning of Longmont, Colo. He finished his 200 doubles target with a total score of 179.

H. A. King of Wichita Falls, Tex., stood next to the leaders with 173. A high wind blowing directly across the face of the traps made shooting difficult.

The one "who knows it all" seldom achieves anything.

Carsen to Be Nabbed On Reaching California

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Jesse Carsen, soldier of fortune and aide of Clara Phillips, "hammer murderess," in her flight to Mexico and Honduras, will be arrested if he returns to Los Angeles from New York, where he is reported to have arrived Sunday on a fruit boat from Central America.

His arrest will be ordered, it was learned, on a charge of arson for which he is wanted here. Carsen, the authorities say, tried to fire a store in Belvedere shortly before he left here with Mrs. Phillips.

When advice rebounds from deaf ears the echo of painful regrets follows in its wake.

Bus Driver Kills Man After Being Wounded

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Aug. 22.—George Johnson, 28, was shot and killed when he attempted to stop Otto Mitchell, a bus driver, at Moville, near here.

According to Mitchell's story, Johnson commanded the driver to halt, shooting Mitchell in the abdomen when the order was disregarded. Mitchell says he then opened fire, killing Johnson almost instantly.

THAW GETS VACATION

PHILADELPHIA Aug. 22.—Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, who has been a patient in the insane department of the Pennsylvania hospital Tuesday was granted a vacation under an order signed by Judge J. Martin.

Escaped Convicts to Face Felony Charges

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—Capture of five prisoners who escaped from the county jail will be followed by the first prosecutions to be instituted in the state under a new law making jail breaking a felony punishable by a sentence of from one to five years, it was announced by Sheriff Ellie Jones. No trace of the escaped prisoners had been found at an early hour yesterday, but Sheriff Jones predicted the men would be recaptured during the day. The prisoners, all of whom were "trusties" employed in the jail kitchen, escaped by means of a key smuggled to them by some one on the outside.

Good efforts are never wasted.

Scientists Leave to Photograph Eclipse

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 22.—Governor Hunt issued informal passports yesterday to Dr. V. M. Slipper, director of Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, and his party, to proceed to Ensenada, Mexico, where they will observe and photograph the eclipse of the sun.

Stores and Garages Menaced by Flames

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Several stores and garages were menaced yesterday by a fire which destroyed the upper floor and roof of a Los Angeles landmark in East Pico street. The damage to the building was estimated at $8,000.

Gasoline Freight Rate Reduction Is Sought

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 22.—Governor Hunt has appealed to the Interstate Commerce Commission to order a reduction in the freight rate on gasoline from Los Angeles to Arizona points, claiming that the present rate of 6 cents and 6 mills per gallon is responsible for the high costs, which range from 24 to 26 cents, including a 3-cent gasoline tax. The governor's appeal is the outcome of the gasoline probe which he has been conducting the past ten days.

THE GLENDALE

"Masters of Men," adapted to the screen from a story by Morgan Robertson, one of the greatest sea writers who ever lived, is hailed by the critics as an outstanding film achievement. It is produced by Albert E. Smith and released by Vitagraph.

In the well-selected cast are Earle Williams, Cullin Landis, Alice Calhoun, Wanda Hawley and Dick Sutherland. Interesting, appealing, thrilling, refreshing, different—one could go on indefinitely using terms like that in describing "Masters of Men" and they would all be true.

This quaint, strong story of the sea, a story of old-fashioned girls and men who are real, conceded to be one of the best sea stories ever written, is evidently out to win the reputation of being the best sea story ever filmed.

THE GATEWAY

"The Love Piker," a new Cosmopolitan picture distributed by Goldwyn, and featuring Anita Stewart, is the attraction at the Gateway Theatre tonight, a story of fine dramatic power and significant theme.

In brief, the story tells a lovers' romance where two men vie with each other over a girl who, as the title would suggest, isn't always brave enough to stand by her amatory convictions.

Robert W. Frazer is the leading man. The story, which is by Frank R. Adams, ran in the Cosmopolitan magazine. The direction is by E. Mason Hopper, from a scenario by Frances Marion.

George Barnes, the cinematographer, is one of the best in his line and has produced a picture rich in pictorial art. All in all, "The Love Piker" is a delightful, whimsical, thoroughly enjoyable film.

Mrs. Oesterreich Sick, Asks Release on Bail

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, awaiting trial in the superior court charged with the murder of her husband, Fred Oesterreich, wealthy Milwaukee clothing manufacturer, was scheduled to renew her fight before Superior Judge Reeve for her release on bail from the county jail until her trial. A motion for the accused woman's release on bail was made before Judge Reeve two weeks ago. Because of the length of the transcript of the preliminary hearing, the judge took the matter under consideration. The counsel for Mrs. Oesterreich maintains that her incarceration is threatening her life and that during the month she has been in jail she has lost thirty pounds in weight.

BURBANK

PLAN EXTENSION OF VAN OWEN ST.

Old Deeds Give Right of Way Along Empire Avenue, Promoter Claims

Van Owen street, Van Nuys, will be brought through to Turkey crossing, Burbank, sixty feet wide and paved with asphaltic concrete, if Horace Haskin of the former city meets with success in his present undertaking.

Mr. Haskin has been in Burbank a number of times recently in the interest of this project and reports that Mayor J. C. Crawford has come upon some old deeds giving the right of way on Empire avenue, which is the street to be followed at the intersection of the new project with San Fernando road.

A petition has been filed with the Los Angeles county Board of Supervisors, for improvement of the stretch of this road lying within the county limits, and the city of Los Angeles already has the petition for the improvement of that portion lying within its own boundaries.

Empire avenue is now open to Pioneer avenue. The plan contemplates running it under the proposed subway at this point and continuing along the south side of the tracks to the city limits, a distance of not over a half mile.

Another "Burbank Day"

Tuesday, August 28, has been set aside as "Burbank Chamber of Commerce Day" at the First Annual Oil and Land Exposition at Long Beach, during the ten-day period from August 25 to September 3.

The exposition site, situated on the edge of Signal Hill, one of the greatest oil fields in the world, will present a picturesque sight and is destined to draw tourists and oil men from all over the world.

Saint Millard, manager of the exposition, anticipates, the event will be of such outstanding importance that it will become the first of a yearly series of such expositions. Among the feature attractions will be the Hollywood Legion band and a mammoth fireworks display each night, while an Indian rodeo will feature the afternoons of August 25, 26, September 1, 2 and 3.

Vaudeville, educational exhibits, lectures and scores of other features will mark the exhibition's course. That Burbank has been given a special day should make this city proud and happy, for not only is it a real honor, but a decided advertising opportunity.

Choralists to Picnic

Choral club members, with their families and friends, will picnic Friday, August 24, at the beautiful hillside home of Mrs. Charles Lovejoy, a the head of Providencia avenue.

The musicians will assemble about 6:30 o'clock in the afternoon for a picnic supper, it is announced by Mrs. Harry J. Valentine, chairman of the committee of arrangements in charge.

Later there will be a program of music and games. This is the first picnic the club has had in two years and a fine time is anticipated.

dents come here and seek the favored sections of the city for home sites.

The fears that were expressed by a few persons when the plans for the new sanitarium were first discussed, that the institution might be too large for the needs of the present or of the immediate future, have already been dissipated by the requests that have been made for reservations in the sanitarium, several of which are sought on yearly terms; and the fact that the present plant of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, on East Broadway, has been taxed to the limit for several years past has also formed abundant justification for the board's adopting its present course and building the new sanitarium, that will have room for many more patients than it has been possible to care for in the past.

The Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital is not only performing a wonderful work in preaching and teaching the doctrine of health and right living, but it is also one of the pathfinders in leading the way to a greater prosperity for Glendale by bringing here a large number of citizens who are an asset to the city.

STORY OF BLIND FOOD MAKER TOLD

Seventh-day Adventist church, but his affliction made it difficult to fill this position. So he went east to become editor of the national publication for the blind, returning to the Pacific coast a few years later in the capacity of field representative of the journal. Three years ago he came to Bakersfield and opened a little grocery store on the screen porch of his home.

Brown Betty Discovered

"He set up a little grist mill in the back yard, and began grinding wheat for his customers.

"One day an old German came into his store.

"I would like for you to make me a special breakfast food like my mother used to make in the old country," he said. He named the grains used and the way they were mixed. So Mr. Miller started a series of experiments based on this formula, which ended in the evolution of a new machine, and a new food, dextrinized by a secret process. The name Brown Betty was a happy inspiration of Mr. Miller's own."

The account concludes with the recital of the failure of Bakersfield business men to assist in financing the proposed factory to manufacture the health food, and states that Glendale extended a welcome to the blind inventor that induced him to come and settle here, bringing his $250,000 company to take its place among the other live concerns that are building up this city.

Youth of China Are Eager for Education

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 22.—The youth of China are hungry for education, according to H. H. Vreeland, secretary of Yale-in-China, a college maintained by Yale University in the Orient. Vreeland reports attendance in the college has increased 78 per cent in a year, nine of the eighteen provinces sending students. Most of the students are of the wealthy or "scholar" class, formerly most opposed to introducing foreign education, and 87 per cent of them are non-Christian.

Anson Phelps Stokes, former Yale secretary, has been made president of Yale-in-China, succeeding Clarence H. Kelsey of New York. New faculty members announced for the coming year are: Thomas Vennum of Watseka, Ill.; Ray Palmer Foote of Washington, D. C.; Orrin M. Corwin, Jr., of Minneapolis and Francis B. Comstock and Charlotte W. Gilman of New Haven.

EAGLE ROCK

CANYON PATROLS TO FIGHT FIRES

Risk During Dry Season Is Minimized by Action of Supervisors

The Board of Supervisors have taken steps to ppatrol several of the important canyons during the balance of the summer, reports Supervisor Henry W. Wright of the fifth district.

So great is the fire risk during the dry season, and so incalculable would be the loss, should a fire of any magnitude get under way in one of these canyons, that too many precautions can scarcely be taken, Mr. Wright feels.

Officers have been appointed to serve as deputy constables, with full power to preserve order, protect life and property and safeguard the streams as well as aid in the protection.

The canyons now being patroled are Bouquet, Pacoima, Big Tujunga, Arroyo Seco, Santa Anita, Fish and San Dimas, in each of which an officer is on duty for the balance of the season, his salary and expenses being paid from the general county fund.

Appropriations of county funds have also been made for the construction and maintenance in the principal canyons of public comfort stations, reports Supervisor Wright.

"In her canyons and wooded country Los Angeles county has one of her most priceless treasures. To us they are a refuge from heat and strife, to the birds and wild game they are a cover, to the farmer they are his reservoir, to the hunter and fisherman and hiker they are his recreation, and to the tourist they are the answer to all he has dreamed of California.

"We do not yet half realize the value of our canyons."

Mr. and Mrs. Leech and son Bert are on a motor trip north. Mrs. Leech is attending some of the Presbyterian lectures at Asilomar, while her husband and son continue on up the coast. They will meet in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Arbogast of 212 North Highland avenue have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. George Moss and sons, from Milwaukee, Wis., who arrived here after a motor trip to Seattle, Wash., and a boat trip down the coast to Los Angeles. They plan to return home after a tour through the southern part of the state.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Farley and sons of Raton, N. M., have been visiting at the home of his brother, W. W. Farley, of 203 North Kenilworth avenue. Don't Fail to See Mrs. Harriet Hall in Her Cooking Demonstration With the Famous

New Method Range

Mrs. Harriet Hall is a nationally known authority on cooking. She is a graduate of the University of California Domestic Science Department and has a thoroughly practical, as well as scientific knowledge of cooking and baking.

Naturally, Mrs. Hall uses the New Method Range, which is very well known for its five patented features:

1—Enameled steel burner. Consumes more than three times as much air and one-fourth less gas. Instantly removable for washing. Enameled inside and out. Guaranteed for five years.

2—Swinging simmering burner and lighter. Movable from one front burner to the other. Instead of lifting heavy pots, simply swing the little burner to where you want it. Also a lighter when and where you want it.

3—Baking oven. Flames do not touch bottom. No warping or burning out. Absolutely even heat distribution. Baking will brown on top before burning on bottom.

4—Broiling oven. Has burner at each side extending front to back, flame covering evenly entire top of broiling space. Lighted from the front. No possibility of explosion.

5—Counterbalanced oven door. No springs or latches to break, come off or become lost. A perfectly balanced door that is always a source of convenience to the housewife.
